CLOUDY TONIGHT AND TOMORROW; CONTINUED WARM TEMPERATURES.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, continued warm.

THE YOUNG IDEA IS SHOOTING AGAIN

Missouri: Partly overcast, probably with local thunderstorms in northern part of the state tonight; Wednesday, generally fair, continued warm.

St. Louis today entered upon the twelfth day of intense heat, shattering all records for protraction in the history of the Weather Bureau, which was established in 1871. No relief is in sight, according to Weather Forecasters, who say an area of atmospheric disturbance, passing north of Missouri, will cause a continuance of hot southerly winds, with mounting of the temperature during the day.

41 CORPORATIONS ON TODAY'S LIST PAY OVER $10,000

All Are St. Louis Concerns and Income Tax Statements Are Based on 1924 Net Profits.

PAYMENTS OF 275 EXCEED $1000 EACH

Three in Group of 600 Make Returns of Over $100,000, 11 Between $25,000 and $100,000.

Forty-one corporations paying Federal income taxes of more than $10,000 each this year, on their net profits for 1924, are shown in the second list of 600 corporations, made public today by the Collector of Internal Revenue. As it happens, all the 41 are St. Louis concerns, though the district covered by the report includes 63 counties of Eastern and Central Missouri.

Of the 600, 275 paid taxes of more than $1000 each, and these 275 are listed elsewhere in the Post-Dispatch. Of those paying more than $10,000, three pay more than $100,000, 11 between $25,000 and $100,000, and 27 pay between $10,000 and $25,000.

Insurances of lists of corporation income tax payments will continue until all the 1925 corporations in the district which pay such taxes this year have been listed. The Post-Dispatch will print only the names of the firms paying more than $1000. The number of non-taxable corporation returns made this year was 5715, that many corporations having failed to show a profit for the year.

Malinkrodt Payment.

The Malinkrodt Chemical Works, as shown by one of the returns, has paid $58,530.26, or a 12 1/2 per cent tax on a profit of slightly more than $268,000. The company's capitalization is $5,000,000. As was told last week, the Edward Malinkrodt Trust, whose purpose has not been explained, paid a 1924 income tax of $96,745.83, which is assessed at individual, not corporation, income tax rates. The members of the Malinkrodt family pay a total of $63,338.35.

The larger payments listed today will be made by some to day's Collector Helmholtz, are:

- Pulitzer Publishing Co., (the Post-Dispatch), 12th and Olive streets, $198,235.06.
- Gulf Lumber Co., consolidated with Boykin Lumber Co., 824 Arcade Building, $176,301.47.

DIAMOND RUSH IN AFRICA

3000 Stake Claims at Oronokral, in Southern District.

By the Associated Press. JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 8.—Thousands of workers in this district have abandoned their jobs to take part in a diamond rush to Oronokral, where several valuable finds have been reported. Already 3000 claims have been staked off, and diamond buyers are said to have purchased stones weighing as much as 25 carats each, which were found only 15 inches under the soil.

FROST IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Sept. 7.—The English holiday season has been cut short by a spell of cold, stormy weather, unequalled at this season for the last 33 years.

Frost, with a temperature of 28 degrees, is reported from the Southern counties, and the highest temperature recorded over the week-end was 60 degrees, which is normal for early November.

Much damage has been done to the late fruit crops, and the monetary loss to hotel owners and merchants in the summer resorts will be considerable.

ELECTRICAL PLANT RAZED BY FIRE; LOSS IS $175,000

General Alarm Calls Fire Companies to Killark Manufacturing Co. Factory, 3940 Easton Av.

75 EMPLOYEES MARCH OUT OF BUILDING

Flames, Probably Due to Spontaneous Combustion, Break Out in Basement—Fireman Hurt.

Fire, starting in the basement of the three-story brick building occupied by the Killark Electric Manufacturing Co., 3940 Easton avenue, at 9:15 a. m. today, was fought by fire companies assembled by a general alarm, and brought under control only after the building and contents were destroyed, with an estimated loss of $175,000.

The fire had its origin, apparently, from spontaneous combustion, in the lacquer room, in the rear of the basement. Smoke filtering into the office on the first floor attracted the attention of employees, and Miss Alice Kelly, an office employee, telephoned the alarm.

A watchman, also detecting the fire in the basement, gave the alarm throughout the building, and 75 employees, chiefly women and girls, at work on the upper floors, marched out in safety.

Among the employees were two blind women—Miss Alice Griffith, 47 years old, and Miss Emma Griffith, 50 years old, both of 4006 North Broadway. They were working on the first floor. They were led to safety by a forewoman.

Section of Wall Falls

Fire Chief Alt directed five lines of hose on the front of the building, three lines on the east side and three lines in the rear. Fed by the inflammable materials in the basement the entire building was short in flames. A section of a wall and a portion of a skylight fell, slightly injuring a fireman.

Traffic, both street car and vehicle, was closed on Easton avenue, between Vandeventer avenue and Sarah street. The fire attracted a crowd of several thousand persons.

Joseph Desloge, president of the company, estimated the loss of the building at $100,000, and the loss of the stock, consisting chiefly of electrical conduits, transformers, switchboards and electric parts, at $75,000. The loss was partly insured.

An incident of the fire was the death of "Dan," a fire horse of the company, stationed at Sixteenth and Mulanphy streets. "Dan" and his mate made the run to the greater part of the distance at a gallop, and the exertion, coupled with the extreme heat, proved too much. "Dan" reached the fire plug and fell dead. He was 10 years old, and had been in the department service six years.

The building was constructed in 1900, and was operated for many years as the Lieberkranz Beer Garden.

The manufacturing company was incorporated for $200,000 in 1913. Its officers are Joseph Desloge, president; Louis Desloge, vice president, and Marcel Desloge, secretary.

35 FISHERMEN REPORTED LOST IN TYPHOON IN SULU SEA

Five Survivors Bring News of Tragedy After Battling With Gale Several Days.

By the Associated Press. MANILA, Sept. 8.—Thirty-five fishermen are believed to have been drowned in a typhoon in the Sulu Sea, near the island of Palawan, a consular report from the Occidental Negros Province announced. A report of the tragedy was brought ashore by five survivors who drifted in after battling with a gale for several days.

Newbury Awarded Scholarship

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 8.—The Boston Newbury scholarship at Harvard College has been awarded for this year to Irving Colpack of the Dorchester District of Boston. The scholarship was founded in 1908 by the Boston Newbury "Protective Union," and covers the cost of the first year's tuition. It is awarded to the new boy who passes the Harvard admission examinations with the highest percentage. Colpack is a graduate of the Boston Latin School.

NAVY ANSWERS COMPLAINT ABOUT SPRATLEY'S BODY

Charges for Shipment to Be Repaid; Military Funeral for Venice, Ill., Man Killed on Shenandoah.

MILITARY HONORS ACCORDED JOFFRAY
Burial After Services From Chapel — Funeral of Everett P. Allen, Chief Rigger, Is Private.

Inadequate undertaking facilities in the Ohio mining district, where the Shenandoah fell, made it impossible to give the measure of care to the bodies of the men who lost their lives that officers in charge desired.

The Navy Department in Washington today made this explanation to the complaints of William Spratley of Venice, Ill., that the body of his son, William Howard Spratley, a mechanic, first class, who lost his life in the crash, arrived at his home improperly prepared for burial.

To this, Dr. Alva Shaddey, medical officer of the naval recruiting station at Cincinnati, who was in charge of the shipment of the bodies, added that Spratley's body was so mutilated as to interfere with the embalming process.

"There can be no breaks in arteries if embalming fluid is to be effective," Dr. Shaddey said.

Spratley complained also the lack of any escort. The Navy Department replied that lack of naval facilities so far inland made it impossible to send escorts with the bodies.

To Reimburse Charges. Spratley remarked also that the body of his son was received with express charges collect. The Navy Department explains that the naval postmaster had not arrived at the scene when the bodies were shipped, but that the Department will reimburse any such charges.

The bodies of two other St. Louis men killed on the ship were received here without prepayment of express charges, but undertakers were informed by the Navy Department that it would assume the charges.

Spratley still further complained that the casket provided for the body was little more than a black rough box. The reply is that the casket was the best that could be bought for the sum allowed by the Government. Dr. Shaddey said the Government paid $150 for the casket and embalming for each aviator.

Spratley was not informed of any intention by the Navy Department to give his son the military burial to which he seemed entitled by six years' service and the tragical manner of his death. He demanded such honors in a telegram to Secretary Wilbur. Shortly afterwards, officers at Jefferson Barracks got in touch with the father and told him of the Navy's desire to make the funeral a full military one. Accordingly burial today was to be at Jefferson Barracks with a detail from the Barracks to act as escort and services at the grave to be in accordance with military honors.

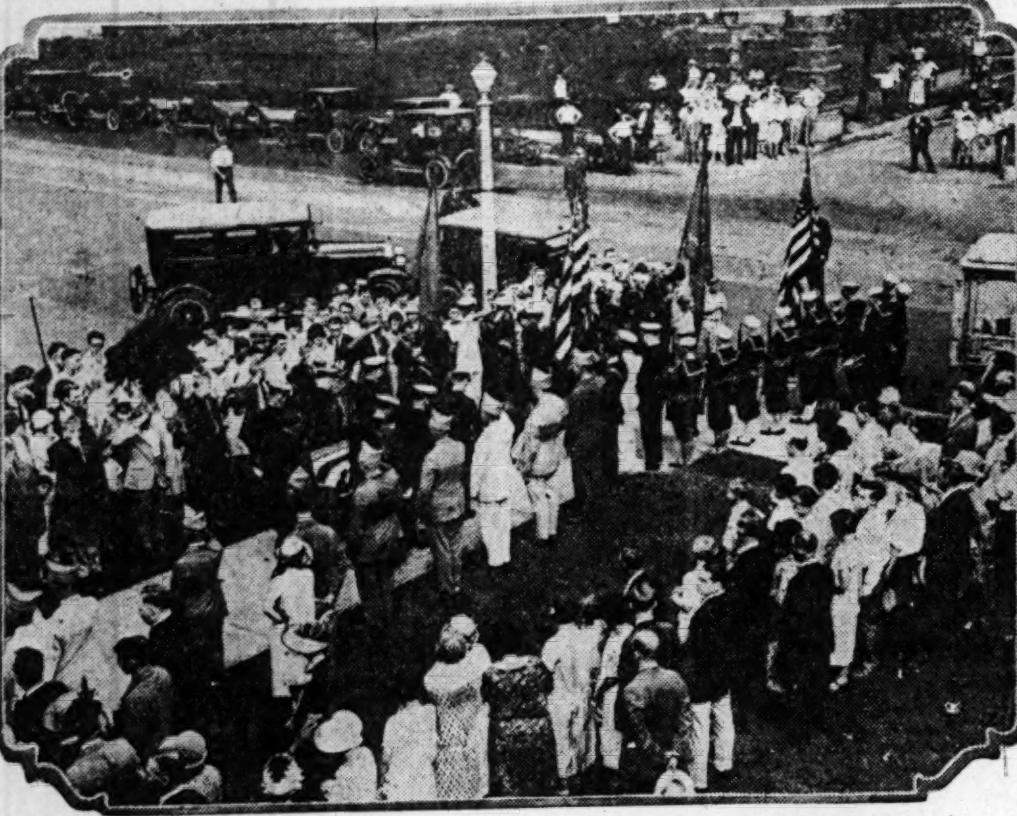

The funeral yesterday of Ralph T. Joffray, 25 years old, rigger, first class on the Shenandoah, was with full military honors. The body lay in state for several hours at an undertaking establishment at 2201 South Grand avenue. Upon her arrival at 2 p. m. for services, Joffray's young widow collapsed on the sidewalk and was carried into the chapel. There a clergyman read a brief scriptural passage and gave a short address extolling the service of one's country.

Military Services. The body was carried from the chapel by six chief petty officers attached to the St. Louis recruiting station of the Navy through a line formed by members of the Forty and Eight, an organization of former overseas service men who wore their overseas caps; officers of the Naval Reserve in their summer white and members of the American Legion. These fell in line behind the hearse for a short procession headed by the colors of Alexander R. Skinner post of the American Legion of which Joffray's brother is a member.

Automobiles carried the funeral party to Lakewood Park cemetery, into which the body again passed.

Military Funeral for St. Louisan Killed on Shenandoah

SCENE at the funeral chapel at 2201 South Grand boulevard yesterday during the military funeral of Ralph T. Joffray, rigger, first class, of the Shenandoah, who lost his life when the ship crashed last week.

between military lines to the grave on a knoll.

Again there was a brief reading of the Scriptures. A hush. The command of the officers in charge of the firing squad. Three volleys, rattling against the surrounding hills and back again. Another stillness, then the slow, wailing notes of taps. The last call of the bugle. The body of the dead man was lowered into the grave and was repeated from afar by another bugle stationed in a remote part of the cemetery.

The funeral of Everett P. Allen, son of Mrs. M. G. Allen, of 5455 Delmar boulevard, chief rigger on the Shenandoah, was held yesterday morning from an undertaking establishment at 4449 Olive street. By request of the family, it was private and without military setting.

Commander Klein Says Utmost Care Was Given to Dead.

CALDWELL, O., Sept. 8.—Commander Jacob H. Klein, chief of the board of investigation into the cause of the wrecking of the Shenandoah and in charge of all work here subsequent to the disaster, declared today the utmost care had been given the bodies of the 14 dead members of the crew.

His statement was made in reply to the criticism of Howard W. Spratley, Venice, Ill., father of William H. Spratley, "machinist" mate on the Shenandoah, who was one of the crew killed.

"All of the bodies were mutilated," said the Commander. "Our careful consideration told us that the bodies would want to see how they were handled. It was impossible to embalm some of the bodies. We had moved them into a barn for protection from the elements, but it was hot and we knew we must get the bodies away as soon as possible."

"The Navy required that its dead be buried in the navy uniform with an American flag around the casket. There was no way for us to avoid that. It was a matter of days before they could have arrived. We did not want to bury them in their shredded dungarees (overall uniforms) so we purchased good clean white sheets and carefully wrapped the bodies in them. The caskets were beautiful. I thought. They were dark blue with silver trimmings. I would ask for nothing better for myself. The noble County American Legion furnished flags for the caskets."

"Because we thought relatives of the men should not see the bodies we put notices on the caskets advising that they not be opened. Express for the purpose of making everything clear we sent word to every relative to whom a body was consigned that they were to pay no express charges. I cannot understand how it can now be said the bodies were sent collect. It is not true."

Commander Klein had in his possession a carbon copy of the Navy report. Mrs. Maggie Spratley, mother of the dead machinist mate, telling her under no circumstances to pay express charges on the body.

Commander Klein called attention to the letter sent by Emma F. Lyon, executive secretary of the American Red Cross of Guernsey County, to the mother or wife of each dead man, in which she told of her visit to the Belle Valley morgue, where she said she viewed every body and satisfied herself that all was being done that could be done.

Memorial Service Tomorrow Night for Men Lost on Shenandoah.
A military service for the 14 men lost in the Shenandoah disaster will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night by Navy Post of the American Legion in Jackson Johnson Post Hall, 4160 Lindell boulevard. The men who lost their lives in the crash of the ship lived in St. Louis and a third in Venice, Ill.

The meeting will be open to the public, but special invitations have been sent by Mrs. R. H. Gradwohl, commander of the Navy Post, to all war veterans and officers and men on duty at Jefferson Barracks.

TELLS OF CREW'S FIGHT TO SAVE SHENANDOAH

Survivor, Here for Funeral of Fiance's Brother, Says Men Died at Their Posts.

The gallant battle waged by the crew of the navy dirigible Shenandoah to ride out the storm which finally brought the craft down near Caldwell, O., last Thursday, was described to a Post-Dispatch reporter here today by Richardson Wilson, a yeoman, first class, was a "buddy" of Ralph T. Joffray of 6797 Reber place, who died at his post in the control car of the dirigible when it was ripped loose from the bag and crashed to earth, carrying 12 officers and men.

Wilson told his story at the Joffray home. He is 24 years old and six years in the navy gave him the clear-eyed, steady appearance that service men know as "the navy look." Wilson is the fiance of Fern Joffray, sister of Ralph Joffray. "I was with him on the night of the crash," he said. "I turned into my bunk near the center of the ship. I awoke a half hour later to find the ship pitching heavily. The man across from me also had awakened and we remarked on the heavy weather. We were hitting, but neither of us was worried, because the Shenandoah could ride out a heavy storm."

Gas Cells Exploded.
"At that time we were 2000 feet up but the ship continued to rise until we were at 5000. That was above our pressure height and we could see the gas cells expand as the atmospheric pressure outside lessened."

"Then we dropped, suddenly, to 3000 feet and came out with the nose up at an angle of 45 degrees. The ship started to climb again, to 7000 feet. There was a heavy lurch and a blinding flash, caused, I suppose, by the parting of the gliders. The ship went to pieces and our section began to fall."

"We dropped to where we were in our quarters stayed there. After about 1000 feet motor cars 4 and 5, attached to our section, parted and fell away, and we began to settle more easily."

Men Died at Posts.
"Finally we hit the treetops. They ripped the fabric from the keel below us and I could see the ground. We climbed up into the gliders to be clear, and when the section landed we got away with a few cuts. There were 23 men in our section, and six in the nose of the ship, which sailed farther away."

"After we had landed, Lieut. Bauch and I walked back to the control car, a mile away. There were 12 dead there and two in the radio car. It was evident from their positions that every man had gone down at his post, fighting to save our ship."

"Dead men who were in our section were just what we needed. The Shenandoah just hit a storm that was too big for her. She was a fine ship, in perfect condition, and manned by the finest officers. She just went down in the storm like a ship at sea will go down in a heavy blow."

Wilson declared that criticism of the crew was entirely inadequate. There was no clothing available for the bodies and no caskets. Each man got the best attention possible and the body of every member of the crew, from ensigns down to Capt. Lansdowne, was handled in the same way. It is unjust to criticize the Navy for conditions beyond its control."

MOFFETT SAYS LANDSOWNE SELECTED TIME FOR TRIP
Admiral Declares He and Wilbur Deferred to Judgment of Shenandoah's Commander.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 8.—Lieutenant-Commander Landsowne, who met death in the Shenandoah disaster last week, was not ordered to take the dirigible for a tour over the Ohio Valley, despite his representation that air conditions in that vicinity at this time of the year made it extremely dangerous. It was stated here last night by Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, that "Landsowne told me himself that he wanted to make the trip at this time and Secretary Wilbur and myself deferred to his judgment as to the most suitable time to make the trip."

Memorial Services for Landsowne.
DAYTON, O., Sept. 8.—Memorial services were held at Greenville today for Zachary Landsowne, commander of the Shenandoah. His business in the city was suspended this afternoon. Dr. J. E. Monger, director of the Ohio Health Commission, made the chief address.

FAILURE OF BRACES GIVEN AS CAUSE OF DIRIGIBLE'S CRASH

Informal Report by Admiral Dyson to Wilbur Says Some Diagonal Supports Pulled Loose.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Failure of diagonal bracing was held largely responsible for the Shenandoah disaster, in an informal report to Secretary Wilbur by Rear Admiral C. W. Dyson, who made an independent investigation for the Secretary.

Admiral Dyson reported yesterday that some of the diagonal bracing which gives dirigible airships their longitudinal strength, had pulled loose from its support.

As to the reduction of the number of safety valves on the ship under the strains in the Ohio storm, Secretary Wilbur said the report had greatly clarified this question in his mind, since it disclosed that every gas cell in the vessel had a safety valve emptying into a common system. It was the number of valves in this common system that had been reduced, and not, as he had inferred from published reports, the number of vents from the cells themselves.

"Of course," the Secretary said, "it remains to be determined whether reduced number of outlets tests of the reconstructed system, the discharge of helium at a sufficiently rapid rate."

The Admiral said the theft of some of the gas cells by souvenir hunters, was unfortunate, since tests of the reconstructed system, what extent, if any, they failed to function properly in the emergency.

Secretary Wilbur expressed gratification over reports that tests of the reconstructed system, away from the wreckage, were returning them.

Disaster Due to False Sense of Security, Says Helms.
LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 8.—The loss of the Shenandoah was the outcome of a "false sense of security," arising from incomplete tests of the reconstructed system of safety valves, Capt. Anton Heinen, former German dirigible pilot and construction adviser of the airship, said yesterday.

In a formal statement he answered questions of naval air authorities that the new system had been thoroughly tested and could not have caused the disaster. Heinen had declared the removal of eight of the 18 safety valves of the dirigible's gas bags.

"We learn from reports forwarded from Lakehurst," Capt. Heinen said, "that tests were conducted on the original 18 valves, but that they were not tested under conditions of pressure height. It is but fair to inquire why the all-important time element of such a test is omitted from the report. It is entirely conceivable that the ship could be lifted in quiet air slowly with only one valve working in communication with all gas bags, but an emergency is an entirely different matter."

"Device for Saving Helium."
Capt. Heinen said a "false feeling of security" had been engendered and the safety valves from being "device for the protection of human life," became a device for saving the valuable helium contained in the gas bags.

"In spite of all that happened," he maintained, "the airship when packed to capacity, and the care and care for, is the safest way of human transportation. Years that are to come will prove this to be so. And in the passing of years, with the greater and more pronounced safety of the dirigible, the apparent greater regard for the safety of those now our heroes has caused this ghastly situation."

Capt. Heinen said the Shenandoah had been turned over by her constructors to the Government with "safety valves sufficient in number and in design to make the ship safe under any conditions of weather conditions which our past experience had taught us."

"I do not limit the successful combat of the ship to any ordinary weather. We have had cases where ships have been buried over 'pressure height' and at least one case on record where a ship was brought 'over pressure height' at a speed of over 15 meters per second. This ship came out of the emergency somewhat strained, but with flying colors."

Capt. Heinen said he had more than once been drawn up with a ship "in line squalls," such as the one that caught the Shenandoah, Thursday morning.

Funeral Services at Arlington for Four Officers.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Arlington Cemetery offered honored repose today for four victims of the Shenandoah disaster. Funeral services for Lieutenant-Commander Zachary Lansdowne, Commander of the ill-fated ship, were arranged for the afternoon in the chapel at Fort Myer, Va., near by the cemetery, with a full military escort accompanying the body to the grave. A morning hour was fixed for the separate services at the grave for Lieutenant-Commander Lewis Hancock, Lieutenant J. B. Lawrence and Lieut. E. W. Shepherd.

Breasts of Hundred Birds Make Meal for Eskimo

Scientist With MacMillan Expedition Tells of Habits of Dovekie, Which Is Food Supply for Greenland Natives.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—West Greenland was described as a "land of red-brown hills, brightened by orange colored lichens," and a "succession of knolls covered with green timothy grass" in a radio dispatch received and made public by the National Geographic Society from the MacMillan Arctic Expedition.

The dispatch was descriptive of the birds and flowers of West Greenland as viewed by Maynard Owen Williams, widely known writer who is the society's correspondent with the expedition, and Jacob Gayer, color photographer.

"Each bird has its favorite rock," the dispatch said, "the little auk or dovekie! In Etah the dovekie figures largely early in summer in the bill of fare of the Eskimos who eat it raw. Eskimos are all fond of little auk. Although the birds we have found four sufficient at a time, it takes a hundred for a hungry Eskimo's meal and the breasts crowd four large frying pans."

How Birds Are Skinned.
"Our trouble was not to secure the birds but to skin them. We had Eskimo women come aboard to do it for us. They make one bite through the clean, white feathers at the base of the neck, which opens the skin so that the breast can be torn away."

"The meat is firm and tender, yet not so nice a flavor as one would expect from knowledge that the main food of the birds is shrubs."

"All day long the birds fly out to sea and back, going on the north side of the fjord and returning on the south side with their claws so packed that they can hardly rise from the water."

"They also float in large colonies of several hundred birds each and when we first came a power boat could be driven up to the very edge of such a mass of black and white birds."

"Each bird has its favorite rock near its nest where it suns itself and the colony on each slope forms a group by itself. When a plough gull swoops down or a man or fox passes the group they wing out to an edge of knolls with the lower rim slipping toward the rock and slope gull swoops down or a man or fox over the water."

Catching Birds by Hundreds.
"By placing himself or more often herself, at the point where the slopes sweep the slope the Eskimo can net several hundred birds at a swoop of his long-handled pole and can have a bird in a minute. The birds are not easily frightened and are very curious, so that when one frightens them all he has to do is to wait and they will return within ten feet and even closer to him."

"While a gull or a man would start one colony off a shadow of a wing, a plough gull would start a million of the birds into the air. While we lost the picture which we had patiently waited for because a plane two miles away had started its engines, I once counted 29 birds break away from the shore, integrating precisely rent by frost, add tumble to the water's edge. Now there will be one out-broken rock slope, then a succession of knolls covered with timothy and edged with rock."

"The little auks have their nests in the talus (rock debris) deeply hidden from the eyes of foes. Each nest is marvelously placed where there will be the least possible danger from the constant shifting of stone. Where the stones are small, the birds cannot nest, so that where one finds nests there are to be found rocks from a foot to six feet all piled up helter-skelter and thus affording niches in which the birds lay their eggs and hatch their young."

BRITAIN TAKES STEPS TO CHECK ALARMING SPREAD OF COMMUNISM

at its annual meeting in Scarborough yesterday, announced that workers have reached the limits of concessions to employers and from now on will fight for improved conditions.

"There is a limit," declared Swales, "to the concessions unions can be forced to make. That limit has been reached. The union policy henceforth will be to recover lost ground, to re-establish and improve our standards of wages, hours and working conditions and to co-ordinate and intensify trade union action for winning a large measure of control in industry for workers."

This declaration was made to an assembly of nearly 800 delegates, representing about 4,500,000 trade unionists, and together with political laborites, a labor vote in the last general election of 5,250,000. Swales' emphasis that the time has come when unions are determined to have better conditions should be interpreted, so the correspondent was informed, in relation to the recent growth of the communist movement within the trade unions.

According to the informant, trade union leaders now realize that in order to maintain their position against attacks of this "left wing," they must obtain for their followers improved conditions.

DRIVER LOWERS RECORD IN ANNUAL PIKE'S PEAK CLIMB
Charles Myers, Pilot Auto to Summit in 17 Minutes 48.3 Seconds.

By the Associated Press.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 8.—Charles Myers of Colorado Springs yesterday piloted his automobile from the foot of Pike's Peak to the summit, a distance of 12 and one-half miles, in 17 minutes and 48.3 seconds, lowering previous records in the annual climb of the peak.

SEARCHERS STRAIN EYES FOR LOST PLANE

Men Aboard Ships Scouring Pacific Are on Duty Many Hours Daily.

By the Associated Press.
HONOLULU, Sept. 8.—Search for the naval seaplane PN-3, which disappeared a week ago, nearly completing a non-stop flight from San Francisco to Honolulu, continued unceasingly today, despite the efforts put forward by the United States Navy, which has been no trace of the plane, the commander, John Rodgers, or crew, four other men.

All naval vessels available were scouring that area of the Pacific where the plane is likely to have drifted. The operations continue in a huge sweeping circle.

Men aboard the ships are on duty many hours daily. Chaplains, sevens, baymen and other officers who ordinarily do not work deck watches, all are on duty, looking out into the vast reaches of waters, searching for some trace of the missing flyers. It is an almost constant reminder of the days of World War. Lookouts are on the watch for submarines, periscopes on the hand. Flares, parts of planes, wreckage, anything that is even a hint of a plane, but still peering eyes are weary but still peering eyes are searching squadrons. "Think of a position—and the searchers are off on a new hunt, all of them, heretofore has been unavailing."

Search to Continue as Long as Slightest Hope Exists.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Navy will continue its search for the missing plane PN-3 No. 1, near Hawaii, as long as there is slightest hope of finding it, Secretary Wilbur made this statement today.

The Navy not only wants to find the men, but failing that it wants to find the seaplane to determine if possible what caused the accident.

Ships engaged in the search have been ordered to go over again the territory already covered and to spread out to include new areas. The Pacific Fleet now approaching Hawaii has been ordered to spread out fan-shape as it nears the islands in order to overlook a greater area.

Shot and Killed at Dance.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BISMARCK, Mo., Sept. 8.—Charles Morris, 24 years old, of Union Mountain, was shot and killed by a negro Deputy Sheriff, after the officer, witnesses said, had been attacked.

Albert Davis, 25 years old, of Elmwood Park, was instantly killed with a bullet through the right ear. The Deputy Sheriff, Charles Cohen, reported that the negro was intoxicated and threatened to thrash anyone who would accept his challenge. The deputy, who had been assigned to order at the picnic, remonstrated with him, and sought to lead him to his home. "He knocked me down twice and I had to shoot him in self-defense," Cohen stated in a report.

MOIS KLANSMEN HOLD PICNIC
The Ku Klux Klan of Madison County, Ill., held an all-day picnic today on the Barnett farm east of Edwardsville. About 1000 Klansmen were in regular initiation ceremony, and a thousand others attended. Two large electrically lighted crosses were illuminated on the grounds last night. One of the crosses was Mrs. S. B. H. Young, widow of the Klan leader of Williamson County.

By the Associated Press.
BELLE FOURCHE, S. D., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Catherine Stevens, 108 years and 7 months old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Mitchell, here yesterday after an illness of two weeks. Suffering a sudden attack of appendicitis Aug. 15, at Deadwood, Mrs. Stevens, the oldest woman in South Dakota, was hurried to the home of her daughter.

$30,000 BORROWED FOR COMMUNITY FUND

Action Necessary Due to Failure of Subscribers to Pay Promptly.

Failure of Community Fund subscribers to pay their quarterly pledges promptly has forced the Community Fund to borrow $30,000 from banks to continue work of the various charitable organizations who are members of the fund.

Unpaid pledges of subscribers have been accepted by the banks as collateral for the loans. Elwood Street, director of the fund, said today that the pledges are legally collectable but stated that he did not anticipate having to file suit to force payments.

"We have had the same situation, although to a lesser degree, in previous years," Street stated. "However, subscribers always have paid their pledges without causing us any trouble, other than the delay," he said.

Street said that the present loans are the first ever made by the Community Fund here. More than $125,000 which was due July 1 has not been paid and unless subscribers pay their pledges soon further loans will have to be made, it was announced.

Pledges to the Community Fund were $1,440,244 and payments to Sept. 1, when the loans were made, amounted to $1,113,631. Approximately $200,000 of the amount unpaid will not be due until Oct. 1, when the last of the quarterly payments should be made.

BIXBY QUALIFIES AS BALLOON PILOT BY NIGHT SOLO FLIGHT

Harold M. Bixby, vice president of the State National Bank, qualified for a license as a free balloon pilot as the result of a flight made by him and a party of four friends in a balloon owned by Albert von Hoffman Sunday night and early yesterday.

In order to qualify for a license a student balloonist is required to make seven trips aloft, including a night flight and a "solo" trip. Bixby had been up more than seven times, but never at night and never alone. The trip, which terminated successfully near West Frankfort, Ill., yesterday morning, began shortly before midnight Sunday, when Bixby, accompanied by J. S. McKibbin, former army balloon instructor, A. C. Hoskins, Harrison Hoblitzelle and A. C. Crunden, took off from a gas plant at 5500 South Broadway.

The balloon drifted southeast and was brought to earth at Mulkeytown, Ill., about 80 miles from St. Louis, at 6:30 a. m. yesterday. Bixby's four companions left the balloon at Mulkeytown and Bixby ascended alone on his solo flight. He landed safely near West Frankfort an hour later, covering an additional distance of 15 miles. The other members of the party drove to West Frankfort in an automobile, where the balloon was packed and shipped to St. Louis. The party returned to St. Louis last night by train.

The night flight was made in bright moonlight and Bixby and his companions plan subsequent flights before winter as a result of the pleasant experience. Bixby will apply to the National Aeronautical Association for a pilot's license.

Armed Fiebschite Guard Denied.
ARICA, Chile, Sept. 2.—Emiliano Bustos, Governor of Arica, today refused the request of the Civic Committee of Arica that he authorize the formation of a secret "plebiscitary guard" of Chileans which would have the right to carry arms and would operate to protect Chilean interests in connection with the Tacna-Arica plebiscite. The Governor refused his approval on the ground that such a secret organization would interfere with the jurisdiction of the authorities and that to grant the right to carry arms would be contrary not only to the regulations, but also unnecessary to protect Chilean rights.

FOR SAYS CITIZENRY TO BLAME IN GRAFT
Seek Special Privilege from City Government, Miller Asserts.

Miller, speaking before the British Rite Club at the American Hotel today on "A Few Nights From the City Hall," that undoubtedly there was a great deal of "graft," corruption and fixing, but added that citizens themselves were largely responsible for it.

"If people want the laws enforced against them," said the Mayor. "If they induce a city official or employee to give them some special favor, they feel they have accomplished a great feat. The public is surprised to know thousands of people who feel any illegal advantage they can get from municipal government is an act of dishonesty on their part simply a smart trick."

Discusses Expenditures.
Part of the Mayor's address was a discussion of municipal government expenditures, and increased cost of government was primarily due to increased activities, lack of business and lack of co-operation of many of municipal government activities, he said, were result of fads or fancies of a popular clique. "To think a gentleman in Government would waste useless activities," municipal employees, he said, are same as any other employees. He pointed to a fundamental difference in the lack of public appreciation of their efforts, lack of adequate salaries and through uncertainty of tenure of office as incentive to work hard.

Mayor suggested that high pupils should have the opportunity to study the fundamental of municipal government be as citizens, they will be expected to understand and contribute to it.

In present administration, he is more concerned with the system of government than in his personal. An honest effort is being made to fulfill campaign pledges, he said with a desire to "go peace-along." He added that, if a man in the system of government "requires strenuous (turbulent) activities, we are well able to give in those tactics."

STATION ROBBERY

Enters Room with Keeper and Takes $75.
JAMES H. Bates, keeper of a station at Washington boulevard and Pendleton avenue, at 10 p. m. last night went into a room there and left a friend, Erick Wieman, 4367A Mary-avenue, in charge for the moment.

man entered the station and if he could get a drink of in the washroom and when he nodded asleep he entered with Bates. The latter a minutes later reported that the man drew a pistol upon entering the room and robbed him of $75. Wieman saw the man leave, but suspected nothing and told police he did not know where he had taken place.

Enjoy the Formal Opening of Nugents tomorrow

MONTHS of planning and striving are over. Our task is done. The New Nugents is ready to receive you . . . awaiting the approval you are certain to give.

Come to see the New Nugents tomorrow. Enjoy this gala occasion—the opening of a new fairyland for shopping. Acres of floor space have been added; new and enlarged departments are replete with merchandise that will delight you—offered at prices to impress you. Let the scores of new comforts and conveniences show you just how pleasant a shopping tour may be.

And in the evening, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, you are invited to an entrancing Style Show—the most sumptuous one that has ever been held in a St. Louis store. Forty young women and children will display the newest fashions for all occasions. Along a 375 foot promenade they will give expression to these latest modes. It will be a pageant of color, with a floral background and the music of four orchestras to make it even more charming. Come to the New Nugents tomorrow. Shop here, pleasantly and profitably, during the day—and see the fashion spectacle in the evening.

TONIGHT—Go window shopping at the New Nugents, tonight. See the 37 beautiful windows, especially arranged for the Opening . . . Truly, you'll enjoy them. They will be lighted until 11 pm, tonight, and every night for the remainder of the week.

WOMAN DIES OF BURNS CAUSED BY GASOLINE

Daughter Suffers Serious Injuries — Fluid Became Ignited in Cleaning Curtains.

Mrs. Rose Krawczyk, 62 years old, was fatally burned and her daughter, Mrs. Kate Carrara, 28, suffered burns of the hands and forearms at 11:30 a. m. yesterday, when gasoline used in cleaning curtains became ignited in the basement of their home, 2853 Connecticut street.

Mrs. Krawczyk was pouring the gasoline from a five-gallon can into a tub containing curtains when it became ignited. Her clothing was immediately enveloped in flames, and Mrs. Carrara was burned when she went to her mother's assistance. Both were rushed to City Hospital, where Mrs. Krawczyk died at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Carrara's condition is serious.

The fire spread to other parts of the basement, causing damage estimated at $200 before being extinguished by firemen. A burning jet on a gas stove is believed to have caused the gasoline to ignite.

Four in Auto Killed by Train.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Four persons were killed yesterday when a westbound New York Central passenger train crashed into an automobile at a grade crossing near here. They were Charles H. Simpson, driver of the automobile; Mrs. Florida Simpson, his wife; Mrs. Catherine Myles and Mrs. Duncan Campbell, mother of Mrs. Simpson. They all were of Buffalo.

NUGENT'S GREATER STORE FORMALLY OPENS TOMORROW

Event Will Mark Completion of Five-Story Addition Adjoining Federal Reserve Bank Building.

NEW DEPARTMENTS HAVE BEEN ADDED

Concern Now Has Total of 400,000 Square Feet of Floor Space — 378-Foot
Frontage.

The formal opening of Nugent's department store, with completion of the five-story addition adjoining the Federal Reserve Bank Building on the north, will be observed tomorrow. All the 140 departments of the store will be opened to the public for the first time.

Cost of the improvements, including purchase of the lot and erection of the addition, a brick structure on a 75-foot frontage, and installation of new fixtures throughout the entire store, is estimated by officials at $4,500,000. The improvements were begun in the early part of 1924, after fire had destroyed almost an entire city block of buildings subleased by Nugent's to other concerns. They are a part of the program, which calls for construction of a new building to supplant the present structure within the next eight years. No further improvements will be made during the next year, however.

Large Floor Space.
Completion of the new addition gives the store 400,000 square feet of floor space. It has a frontage of 378 feet on Broadway and Fourth street, extending the entire block from Washington avenue to St. Charles street and about one-half block from St. Charles to Locust streets. Although operating under a handicap the store has remained open while the improvements were made.

Several new departments have been added to the store, the most important of which is the furniture department, occupying the fourth floor on the Washington avenue side of the building. A department for radios and phonographs, a household department and a beauty parlor are other additions of importance.

All Departments Enlarged.
All departments of the store have been greatly enlarged. The men's furnishings department now occupies the entire third floor north. The enlargement, which has given the organization approximately twice as much floor space as it has had heretofore, has enabled it to provide large aisles and commodious quarters for the various branches of the store.

New fixtures are of solid walnut throughout. Attractive show windows have been added. Walls have been finished in white, giving added light, and the exterior of the store has been painted a light brown to conform to the color of the new addition.

Another feature of the new organization is the telephone checking system for charge accounts. After each charge purchase the clerk making the sale notifies the credit department by telephone and, if the purchase may be made on account, a stamp on the base of the clerk's telephone electrically marks the sales slip as correct. It is designed chiefly as a time saver.

11 Large Elevators.
Eleven large elevators, each with a capacity of 35 persons; a basement covering two city blocks; an air-cooling system and package conveyances which collect packages from the various departments and deliver them direct to the delivery department are other features of the new store.

The first Nugent store was opened in 1873, at Broadway and Franklin avenue, by the late Byron Nugent. A few years later it was moved to Broadway and Washington, originally occupying the first floor of a small section of the block. It has grown steadily since to its present size. A few years after it opened Byron Nugent's three brothers, Dan C. Charles W. and James Nugent, and F. C. Lake, now secretary and treasurer of the firm, became part owners.

In 1923 the store became associated with a group of 15 stores in large cities throughout the United States for the purpose of increased buying power.

Besides Lake, present officers of the company are: President, F. C. Cramer; merchandise manager, R. R. Adams; sales and promotion manager, J. H. Hohlman; and superintendent, George Caesar.

VIVIANI FUNERAL THURSDAY

Expenses of Elaborate Tribute Will Be Paid By Government.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 2.—The funeral of Rene Viviani, former Premier, who died yesterday after a lingering illness, has been set for Thursday. It will be elaborate and, as is generally the case in the death of so prominent a personage, the expenses will be borne by the Government.

In a message to the Petit Parisien today, Premier Painleve expressed his sorrow at the loss "to French Democracy of one of its best sons and leading defenders." He recalled Viviani's mission to America in 1917 and paid tribute to his services to France in the tragic hours of the World War. These sentiments are echoed by the editorial writers of all newspapers.

Policeman Extinguishes Bomb.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Risking his life, Policeman William Smith smashed a window of a brick factory and snatched a sputtering bomb, laid it on the sidewalk and stamped out the burning fuse. The bomb had been tossed into the factory by several men who escaped in an automobile and were fired on by a watchman. The shots brought the policeman.

Despondent Woman Takes Poison.
Mrs. Enika Kramer, 23 years old, of 2723 Evans avenue, was taken to City Hospital yesterday and treated for poison which she drank, she told the police, because of despondency over separation from her husband, John. Her condition is serious.

FILES HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

George Remus Makes Move to Escape Jail Sentence.

By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—George Remus, former Cincinnati bootlegger, filed an application in the United States district court here today for a writ of habeas corpus in an effort to escape serving a sentence of a year in the county jail at Dayton Ohio. Judge Smith Hickenlooper ordered the United States marshal to bring Remus from the Dayton jail for immediate hearing.

Remus was released last week from the Atlanta penitentiary where he served a sentence of two years under an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. The jail sentence was imposed under an indictment charging maintenance of a nuisance at a farm used as a liquor distributing headquarters here. The application for the writ of habeas corpus was based on a decision of Judge Hickenlooper in the cases of former associates of Remus, which held that the penitentiary and jail sentences were to run concurrently.

Suffered for 15 years with constipation—
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings relief in 3 weeks

Tried everything. Even operation. Only Kellogg's helped him.

Constipation paves the way to many harrowing diseases. But Mr. Williams' letter carries a message of cheer.

I have been using YOUR ALL-BRAN for the past three weeks and it has done more for me than anything I have tried in the past fifteen years. . . I was troubled with hemorrhoids for years. About 18 months ago I was operated on with very little relief. I tried everything under the sun. Then my wife suggested Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and I say truthfully that it is the only thing that ever gave me relief.

Yours truly,
L. T. WILLIAMS.

Cleanse your system of constipation's devastating poisons with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—a bulk food that passes through the system, sweeping the intestine clean, stimulating normal, healthy action.

Eat two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or your grocer returns the purchase price. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Michigan. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants.

with a Duofold?

Here's the $7 Pen in a $5 Size

YES, $5 buys a Parker Duofold Jr. with a full-handled grip for a fellow's strong hand; and $5 buys a Lady Duofold Pen with a slender grip to fit a girl's slim fingers.

Both of the $5 Duofolds are just like the $7 Parker Duofold except for size.

This extra good fountain pen would make your school work lighter, for the more skill used in making a pen, the easier it is for you to write a smooth, clear hand with it.

Choose your size, choose your point—Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Broad, Stub, or the new Oblique. And choose your color—the Duofold lacquer-red with smart black tips, or the plain black trimmed with gold.

Some fellows have spent $5 or $10 on unsatisfactory fountain pens before buying a Parker Duofold, others only $2 or $3, and still others have bought a Parker right from the start. You'll see more of these pens at school this fall than ever. Decide to have one yourself.

Heat Your Home with

Gas

The Super-fuel

Gas-heated homes are the best heated homes

St. Louis homes have welcomed gas heat. As many gas heat installations were ordered during the past two months as were commonly made in two years. This number will rapidly grow as house-owners learn the comfort, convenience and all-round satisfaction of this better, cleaner heat. NOW is the time for you to know its advantages. We urge you to investigate. We will gladly furnish facts and figures to help you to decide.

Install Now—Pay in October

The Laclede Gas Light Company's offer to
St. Louis Home Owners

We will, on request, immediately install in your home, any of the seven up-to-date Gas Heating Plants which you may select, and guarantee its satisfactory operation. No payment to be made before October First.

Take advantage of this offer. Act now, so your plant will be ready with heat for early Autumn days. Follow the example of hundreds of St. Louis people who for years have enjoyed gas heat in their homes. Gas is the modern, no-waste fuel—economically used in warm air furnaces, steam and water boilers. Ideal for cottage, bungalow, flat and residence, large or small. A gas-fired furnace or boiler can easily be connected with your present heating system.

Clean, Dependable Heat No Trouble, No Waste

Gas is reliable, ever-ready. Under thermostatic control, its heat is automatically regulated. Use much or little, as you need it. Even temperature is maintained without attention from you. High heat for zero days—lazy heat for mild days. No trips to the basement. No bins or tanks to fill. No ashes to carry. No soot, smoke, dirt, odor or waste. Just clean heat.

Visit Our House-Heating Display

on the Mezzanine floor Laclede Gas Building. See the new Gas Warm Air Heater—the kind used so extensively in California. "Push a button for high or low heat." In this exhibit we also show letters from St. Louis home-owners, telling of the efficiency, economy and desirability of gas heat. Endorsements based on actual experience.

3 CIVIL WAR VETERANS DRINK

TOAST TO DEAD COMRADES

Virtually Disband Club Which Has Been in Existence for 20 Years.

By the Associated Press.

STILLWATER, Minn., Sept. 8.—Drinking a toast to wine to their departed comrades, three old soldiers of the Civil War who saw service in Company C, Eighth Minnesota, tipped their glasses yesterday and virtually disbanded the club which has been in existence for 20 years.

In company with the 14 widows of their comrades and the wife of one of the surviving members of the club, the three aged veterans, whose combined ages total more than 250 years, held their last meeting at the home of Horace Voligny, 86.

Besides Voligny, the veterans at what probably was the last meeting of the trio of John Blake of Mellon, Wis., 83, and Jacob Secrest, Minneapolis, 83.

The men's club was organized in 1905 by 29 members of Company C.

Although the wishes of their comrades in arms provided that the toast to the departed members of the club had been drunk by the two last survivors, it was decided today that the weight of the encroaching years was growing too burdensome to permit of annual gatherings.

ASIANIC CHOLERA EPIDEMIC IN JAPAN MAY HALT ROYAL VISIT

Plans for Entertainment of Prince George of England

By Radio to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.

Copyright, 1932.

TOKIO, Sept. 8.—It is feared that the spread of Asiatic cholera in Yokohama may interfere with arrangements for the entertainment of Prince George of England during his contemplated brief visit to Tokio and Yokohama. The authorities are working day and night to prevent further cases from developing.

The disease reached Japan from Shanghai which is now under quarantine. Some 70 cases have been reported in Yokohama and there are also a few in Tokio. The populace hopes for early relief from the present extreme heat which would help check the spread of the disease. Plans for the Prince's entertainment have been completed. The Prince Regent is to give a dinner to which foreign diplomats and high officials are invited. Combined British organizations are to give a luncheon in Yokohama Sept. 17.

TEST FOR SCHOLARSHIPS AT WASHINGTON U. BROADENED

Moral Character, Initiative and Vigor of Mind to Be Considered.

Beginning Next January.

The awarding of freshman scholarships at Washington University will no longer be considered solely upon the applicant's scholastic achievement in high school. The recipients of the donations will, beginning with the class entering in January, 1933, have to meet a new and much broader set of qualifications, in order that the university may consider them as especially worthy of financial help.

The various high schools will select three students from each graduating class, and put their names before the University Scholarship Committee. These selections will be based on the following qualities: Moral character, initiative and vigor of mind, confidence, participation in school activities, achievement of honors, together with academic ability.

MORRIS HILLQUIT JEERED

Communists Criticize Him for Traveling on "Scab" Ship.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The majestic of the White Star Line, the first large trans-Atlantic liner to leave England since the beginning of the dockmen's strike in British ports, was greeted upon its arrival today by a group of 200 persons styling themselves as communists, who termed the ship a "scab."

The demonstration was aimed primarily at Morris Hillquit, one-time candidate on the Socialist ticket for Mayor of New York City, and Jennie Goldstein Gabel, of the Jewish People's Theater, who were passengers. The demonstrators carried banners criticizing them for traveling on a "scab" ship. When the ship docked, the demonstrators had dwindled in number to about 60 and these were hustled by the police to an adjacent vacant lot where they cheered and waved.

Hillquit and Miss Gabel were undisturbed by the demonstration.

Caster Executive in H. L. Doherty Co.

By the Associated Press.

BARTLESVILLE, Ok., Sept. 7.—H. O. Caster, for five years general counsel of the Empire Companies with headquarters here, has been named to an executive position with Henry L. Doherty Co. of New York.

York. It was announced today. The Empire is a subsidiary of Cities Service, a Doherty Co., owning public utilities in many parts of the United States. Before coming to Bartlesville, Caster had been attorney for the Kansas Utilities Commission. It was said here that Caster would probably be vice president and general manager of the $5,000,000 Doherty Utility Co.

BIRTHDAYS EASILY REMEMBERED.
 PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Sept. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Douglass Johnson of this city have no difficulty in remembering the birthdays of their three children. Bernice Marian, the eldest, was born May 16, 1920, and three years later Elizabeth Juha made her appearance on the same date. Little Olive Nona kept up the family regularity as to birthdays by arriving on May 6 this year.

BALL GAME FATALITY TERMED AN ACCIDENT
 Coroner's Verdict Returned in Case of Farmer, Killed by Thrown Baseball
 A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned at Belleville yesterday in the case of Henry Renth, 37 years old, a farmer, of Mascoutah, who was killed Sunday afternoon when struck above the left eye by a baseball thrown by Melvin Voelkel, a farmer, of Mascoutah. The accident occurred on the farm of Renth's brother, Fred Renth, near Mascoutah, during the course of a baseball game among guests at a family reunion. Henry Renth was at bat and failed to dodge a ball pitched by Voelkel. The funeral of Renth, who is survived by a widow and three minor children, will be held tomorrow from his home to Mascoutah Cemetery.

No "off-color" teeth no toneless gums when that dingy film is removed

Accept this remarkable dental test. You'll gain the dazzling white teeth and coral-like gums that make smiles attractive and inviting.

MODERN dental science has made important, recent discoveries in lightening cloudy teeth. In a few days you can work great changes in the color of your teeth: can give them dazzling whiteness, and your gums the healthy coral tint you envy. If you seek new beauty and new charm, test this new way. Do as millions are doing on dental advice. Multiply the value of your smile. Mail the coupon. A 10-day test will be sent you.

Beneath that film are gleaming, glorious teeth

Run your tongue across your teeth, and you will feel a film, a viscid coat that covers them. That film is an enemy to your teeth—and your gums. You must remove it. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It absorbs discolorations and gives your teeth that cloudy, "off-color" look.

Gums by the millions breed in it and lay your teeth open to decay. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and gum disorders. Tooth troubles and gum troubles now are largely traced to that film. Old-time methods fail in successfully combating it. That's why, regardless of the care you take now, your teeth remain unattractive.

New methods remove it. And Firm the Gums

Now, in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent, dental science has discovered effective combatants. Their action is to curdle the film and remove it, then to firm the gums. Ordinary methods fail in these results. Thus the world has turned, largely on dental advice, to this new method. What you see when that film is removed—the whiteness of your teeth—will amaze you. You are simply hiding the natural beauty of your teeth.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt. Mail the coupon. A ten-day tube will be sent you free.

FREE Mail this for 10-Day Tube to THE PEPSODENT COMPANY, Sec. A-192, 1104 S. Wabash Av., Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

WAHABI CHIEF DENIES REPORT OF BOMBARDMENT OF MEDINA
 Sultan of Nejd Says Followers Have Strict Orders To Protect Tomb of Mohammed.
 By the Associated Press
 LONDON, Sept. 8.—A Reuters agency today received a telegram from Ibn Saud, Sultan of Nejd, and leader of the Wahabi tribesmen of Arabia, officially denying reports that his followers have bombarded Medina, "the City of the Prophet," in the Hedjaz. "Our forces have surrounded Medina," the Sultan's message says, "but our Government has issued strict orders to the military commanders to respect and protect the Holy places of Medina and its inhabitants. We are ready to sacrifice all we have for this. We are bound religiously to protect the holy tomb (the tomb of Mohammed). Our Government will keep the promises given to the Moslem world."

HURT IN FALL FROM PORCH
Miss Minnie Gladby Drops 10 Feet When Railing Gives Way
Miss Minnie Gladby, 61 years old, of 1320 St. Ange avenue, suffered a fractured skull and contusions of the body at 4 p. m. yesterday, when the railing of a porch on the first floor, against which she was leaning, gave way and she fell into the yard, a distance of 10 feet. She was taken to city hospital. Policemen reported the accident was due to rusted nails.

METHODISTS READY FOR CONFERENCES

Two Church Bodies to Begin Regular Sessions in St. Louis Tomorrow.

Preliminary work of two conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church—the St. Louis Conference and the St. Louis German Conference—began today, the larger body meeting at Union Church on Delmar boulevard near Grand and the German body at Eden Church, Nineteenth and Warren streets.

Most of the 400 ministerial and lay delegates to the conference will arrive today and this evening, and the regular sessions will begin tomorrow morning.

Examinations for Ministry. Today's preliminary work at Union Church included the annual examination of those to be admitted to the ministry on trial, and those who are taking a four-year course of study for the ministry.

Tonight, at Union Church, the Rev. Dr. W. W. King, president of Ozark Wesleyan College at Carthage, the Rev. Dr. L. M. Potts of Central Wesleyan College, Warren, Mo., and the Rev. Dr. Blaine Kirkpatrick of Chicago, secretary of the Epworth League, will speak. The occasion is the Board of Education and Epworth League anniversary.

Both conferences will be organized tomorrow morning, and they will meet separately through Thursday. Friday afternoon the German conference will unite with the larger body, and all will meet at the Epworth School at Webster Groves. Saturday the delegates will go to Warrenton, to visit Central Wesleyan College and the Orphans' Home. A joint service in Union Church Sunday night will close the conference.

Speakers at the conference will include Bishop E. L. Waldorf of the Kansas City area, which includes St. Louis, and Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of the Chicago area. Bishop Hughes will give the conference lecture Friday night, speaking on "The Children of the Manse." Bishop Hughes will also speak each morning on evangelism.

MAN WHO KILLED NEIGHBOR

EXONERATED AT INQUEST
Verdict Gives Self-Defense as Justification for Shooting Near Belleville.

Winfield Scott Conklin, 23 years old, of Rentschler Station, east of Belleville, was exonerated of a charge of killing Thomas Durham, 23, at an inquest held yesterday afternoon at Belleville. Conklin was immediately released from the county jail.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Durham came to his death from a gunshot wound in the chest inflicted by Conklin in self-defense.

Durham, witnesses said, had been quarreling with his family. He saw Conklin, his neighbor, standing in his own yard. Witnesses said Durham remarked that he was "going to kill them all and will start on you first," advancing on Conklin. Conklin, remembering that Durham had fired a shot in the house, got his shotgun. He fired one shot over Durham's head to frighten him and when the neighbor continued to advance and entered the Conklin home the latter fired the second barrel of the gun, hitting Durham in the left breast. Durham's body was buried in Glen Carbon today.

St. Louisans receive Puzzlers League.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Courses in cross word and other puzzles in public schools to train the minds of children were advocated by speakers at the closing session last night of the forty-fifth annual convention of the Puzzlers' League. Louis Trent, secretary of the organization, reported that there was every prospect of the placing of real puzzles in the courses of study now undergoing change in the New York City schools. The convention elected W. F. Kleykamp of St. Louis, president and named Feb. 24, 1925 as the date for the next convention to be held in Baltimore.

Mrs. Oceola Allen Dies in California.

Mrs. Oceola Allen, formerly of 4219 Maryland avenue, died suddenly Saturday in Long Beach, Cal., following an operation for an intestinal trouble. Mrs. Allen, who moved to California a year ago, visited in St. Louis two months ago. The body is being returned to St. Louis, accompanied by her one surviving son, James Garfield Allen, who was graduated from Washington University in 1923, and will be forwarded to the family home at Greenfield, Tenn., for interment. Mrs. Allen was a member of Centenary Methodist Church.

T. S. Firm Gets Greek Contract.

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 3.—A contract between the Greek Government and the Foundation Co. of New York for the drainage and reclamation of the Salomika Plain has been formally concluded. The Government revised the contract for this undertaking which had been signed by the preceding Government. The enterprise calls for the reclamation of lakes and swamps on the Salomika Plain and the regulation of the Vardar River. It is expected to render 280 square miles of land fit for cultivation.

DELAY IN TRIAL OF MILLSPAUGH IN GORIN BANK CASE

Prosecuting Attorney Moore of Scotland County Fails to Co-Operate With Attorney General's Office.

REFUSES TO SIGN TWO INFORMATIONS

Two Important Witnesses Against Former State Finance Commissioner Had Not Been Subpoenaed.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KAHOKEA, Mo., Sept. 2.—Unless Prosecuting Attorney Charles L. Moore of Scotland County co-operates with the Attorney-General in the prosecution of Frank C. Millsbaugh, former State Finance Commissioner, when the trial is resumed here Monday, the Attorney-General plans to ask the Court to disqualify Moore from any part in the prosecution.

The case was called for trial yesterday, but was continued because Prosecuting Attorney Moore refused to sign two informations against Millsbaugh, and because subpoenas had not been served on Myers and Miss Anna Monroe, cashier and assistant cashier, respectively, of the defunct Citizens' Trust Co. of Gorin, Scotland County.

Millsbaugh, at liberty on $2900 bond, is charged with feloniously failing to examine the bank, and corruptly failing to close the bank when he knew its reserves were impaired.

Moore, who is 25 years old, is serving his second term as Prosecuting Attorney of Scotland County, which is in the First Congressional District, from which Millsbaugh went to Congress. Both are Republicans and have made political campaigns from the same platform. They are personal as well as political friends.

Strained relations have existed for some time between Moore and Attorney-General Robert W. Otto and his assistants, W. L. Vandever and James A. Potter. Vandever and Moore appeared before the Scotland County grand jury which indicted Millsbaugh, and it was rumored that Moore opposed the indictments. The friction became public yesterday. After Judge Pettigill had granted a motion by Vandever and Potter permitting the substitution of informations for the original indictments, which might have been invalidated because the words “feloniously” and “corruptly” were omitted, Prosecuting Attorney Moore refused to sign the informations.

In a statement to the court, Moore said his refusal was due to the Attorney-General's staff not taking him into their confidence as to the nature of evidence to be presented. He said he had signed the indictments at their request, but would not sign the informations unless there was more evidence than that of which he had been informed.

May Disqualify Moore. It has become known that a motion to disqualify Moore from any part in the prosecution will be presented Monday, if Moore persists in withholding his signatures to the informations. With Moore removed, a special prosecutor, who would operate with the Attorney-General, could be appointed.

Millsbaugh was in court, seated with his attorneys, Walter Higgins of Lancaster, Charles Miller of Kahoka and J. E. Luther of Memphis. A number of Republican politicians from Northeastern Missouri were in the background.

The State is being represented by Assistant Attorneys-General Vandever and Potter, and J. T. McGormery and Charles Llewellyn, local lawyers.

Myers' Testimony Desired. The State is desirous of having Roy T. Myers testify, because it was his signed statement, given to Attorney-General Otto and a Post-Dispatch correspondent, at El Paso, Tex., which resulted in an investigation and indictment of Millsbaugh. Myers has returned to his home in Gorin, where he is suffering from hay fever and under a physician's care. He and Miss Monroe have promised to appear here next week.

The substitution of Prosecuting Attorney's informations for defective grand jury indictments is made possible by a new statute, enacted by the 1935 Missouri Legislature, which speeds up criminal justice and prevents the release of defendants on legal technicalities. The use of this statute in the trial here is said to be for the first time in Missouri. In the past when defective indictments were dismissed, it was necessary to go before the grand jury and seek other indictments.

phis. A number of Republican politicians from Northeastern Missouri were in the background.

The State is being represented by Assistant Attorneys-General Vandeventer and Potter, and J. T.
Montgomery and Charles Llewellyn, local lawyers.

Myers' Testimony Desired.

The State is desirous of having Roy T. Myers testify, because it was his signed statement, given to Attorney-General Otto and a Post-Dispatch correspondent, at El Paso, Tex., which resulted in an investigation and indictment of Mill-spaugh. Myers has returned to his home in Gorin, where he is suffering from hay fever and under a physician's care. He and Miss Monroe have promised to appear here next week.

The substitution of Prosecuting Attorney's informations for defective grand jury indictments is made possible by a new statute, enacted by the 122d Missouri Legislature, which speeds up criminal justice and prevents the release of defendants on legal technicalities. The use of this statute in the trial here is said to be for the first time in Missouri. In the past where defective indictments were dismissed, it was necessary to go before the grand jury and seek other indictments.

LEAGUE DELEGATES HONOR MRS. WILSON, PAINLEVE MENTIONS HER IN SPEECH

Notables From Many Lands Call on Her, and She Expresses Her View of Meeting With Word "Magnificent."

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is enthusiastic over her view of the League of Nations in action.

"It is magnificent," she said to friends after spending the entire day yesterday in watching the deliberations of the first meeting of the sixth assembly of the league, during which Senator Rucell Dandurand of Canada was elected president and Premier Painleve of France urged that the council of the league be empowered to make the discussion of armament.

The statesmen from 50 lands were present.

The throng in the galleries stood up when Mrs. Wilson entered. In a simple black gown, she sat in the rear of the auditorium. There was loud applause when Premier Pain-leve in his opening address ac-knowledgeed her presence and paid tribute to her husband.

In presenting Mrs. Wilson, the Association for Geneva's Interests, composed of citizens, praised her never-to-be-forgotten husband, the founder of the League of Nations.

Tribute to Mrs. Wilson.

The address also paid tribute to "the woman who was his faithful companion in the hours of anguish of the terrible World War and who associated herself wholeheartedly with his generous initiative."

Mrs. Wilson was especially interested when Dr. Eduard Benes, Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia, told her that by spending four weeks at Geneva each year he saw every Foreign Minister in Europe and that many questions were thus settled.

"The League of Nations founded by your husband is a great time saver," he said.

Statesmen Pay Respects.

Senator Danahy, Dr. Benes,
Paul Hyman of Belgium and Lord
Robert Cecil of Great Britain paid their respects in person to Mrs.
Wilson and a delegation of members of the American Legion, on the way to Rome for a meeting of allied war veterans, also called.

Premier Painleve, Foreign Minister Briand and Louis Loucheur of the French delegation also called on Mrs. Wilson to present her respects. Mr. Loucheur was particularly moved by the meeting, as he knew President Wilson intimately during the peace conference in 1919. He is a member of the French delegation.

Mrs. Wilson received the French statesmen cordially and complimented M. Painleve on his opening speech in the assembly. She said she marveled at the knowledge of American Civil War history he had displayed and the lesson he drew from it for Europe. She thanked him warmly for his tribute to her late husband and his welcome to her in the morning session.

Premier Painleve, in his opening address as retiring president of the assembly, characterized the negotiations with Germany as an effort to bring about agreements or arbitration treaties, in conformity with the covenant of the league, for the maintenance of peace. He explained that the result of the negotiations, if they succeed, will be to bring about agreements or arbitration treaties, in conformity with the covenant of the league, for the maintenance of peace. He explained that the result of the negotiations, if they succeed, will be to bring about agreements or arbitration treaties, in conformity with the covenant of the league, for the maintenance of peace.

The protocol, Painleve said, has called for ratification chiefly because of the refusal of some powers, including England, to accept the system of penalties against an aggressor therein provided. He suggested a way out of this difficulty by counselling the adoption of a modified protocol which would not immediately bind all the countries of the world by the same universal formulae, but would include a series of regional pacts between states that are perhaps prone to conflicts, leaving all other members of the league bound by the general obligations of the covenant.

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—Senator Capper of Kansas, who attended the opening session of the league assembly, said he was very much impressed with the league's working.

"To me the league appears to be a very impressive, sincere organization behind a great ideal and operating in the right direction," he said in an interview.

"As for the United States, I don't say we should be here now, if ever.
Certainly not now."

Senators Jones of New Mexico and Walsh of Montana, who attended the session, are more enthusiastic than ever for the league.

Committee Chairman Named.

The league assembly organized for work today by the selection of the following chairmen for its six principal committees:

Legal and constitutional questions, Senator Scialoja, former Foreign Minister of Italy; technical organizations, Prof. van Eysinga of Holland; reduction of armaments, Foreign Minister Nintchath of Yugo-Slavia; budget and financial,
Dr. Costa of former Finance Minister of Portugal; social and general, Premier Mowinkel of Norway;
political questions, Dr. J. Gustave Guerrero, Salvadorean Minister to France.

As vice chairmen the assembly elected Viscount Ishii of Japan, Foreign Minister Briand of France, Cesar Zuzumeta of Venezuela, the American Ambassador at Geneva, Great Britain, Prince Arfa El Dowleh of Persia and Foreign Minister Duca of Rumania.

BAKER BLAMED BY REED FOR ILLEGAL RAIDS BY POLICE

Governor Wholly Responsible for the Policy of St.
Louis Police Board, Senator Asserts.

SATIRICAL REFERENCE
ALSO TO ENLOE CASE

Executive Pictured as Complicit Reformer, Blind to Conditions of His Administration.

United States Senator Reed entered the lists against unlawful police raids and arrests in an address last evening at a Democratic rally in St. Louis County, and with characteristic vigor denounced Gov. Baker as the man wholly responsible for the policy of the St.
Louis Police Board. The meeting was at the home of a former Democratic nominee for Congress, David Israel, Clayton and Lay roads.

The Senator also made a satirical reference to the failure of the Governor personally to investigate charges relating to the administration of the secretaryship of the Health Board, and the coming for an investigation of the police board, a friend and political adviser of the Governor.

The Senator pictured Gov. Baker
as a man, complicit reformer, blind to conditions resulting from his policy of police administration and making no attempt to correct them.

"The man who appoints the Police Board is the man responsible for its actions," Senator Reed said.
"He is responsible for the battering down of doors of homes and business places and the incarceration of citizens without a charge against them. These are outrages.
He was placed in office to protect the rights of citizens and these are conditions that he should speedily correct. Under his direction, the police are greater and more offensive lawbreakers than the persons they arrest. It is his policy and the coming for an investigation of the police board, a friend and political adviser of the Governor's own."

"The people of St. Louis are blaming the members of the Police Board," the Senator continued.
"The police are greater and more offensive lawbreakers than the persons they arrest. It is his policy and the coming for an investigation of the police board, a friend and political adviser of the Governor's own."

"The only man responsible for these outrages is the man placed in authority. That man, who abuses the authority vested in him, is the Governor of our state."

Senator Reed then referred to the Enloe controversy. Gov. Baker has said that he was not interested in charges that unqualified applicants were permitted to take the State medical examination, because the alleged state of facts transpired during the Hyde administration.

Baker's Attitude Assailed.

"He takes the position that if an applicant is committed to the State proper or criminal act two and a half hours before the Governor's inauguration, then he is absolved from responsibility for that ap-plicant's acts," said the Senator.

The Senator Reed was vigorously applauded by the 2500 persons present during this passage of his speech. It was extemporaneous and was not included in his set speech, in which he blamed President Coolidge for failure to develop an inland waterways system.
Comprehensive River Transportation Needed.

The Senator pointed out that state between the Allegheny and Rocky Mountains would have a great avenue to market products at low freight rates through the Panama Canal to the west coast if comprehensive river transportation system were undertaken by the Federal Government.

"It is true," he continued, "that Congress has the power of appropriation but it is likewise true that the executive department has always dealt with the problem of river improvements in a miserly and short-sighted way. The chief of engineers, who makes the estimates, has been dragged into cutting them to the very bone.
Congress has been repeatedly notified by direction or indirection that the President would veto bills if they carried an appropriation beyond the amount fixed by the executive. All the power of the President has been employed to cajole and coerce Congressmen into so limiting the appropriations for rivers and harbors that the work should have been done years ago still remains unfinished. This is just as true today as it has been in the past. The fact that the last river and harbor bill did not carry a sufficient appropriation to speedily drive to completion the improvements of the Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and other streams cannot be laid directly to the door of the President himself."

"A single word of encouragement—no, less than that—a simple policy of hands-off would have resulted in an adequate appropriation.
The majority of Congress undoubtedly desired to pass a bill

1900-Mile Commercial Airplane Tour of the Middle West

The first Commercial Airplane Reliability Tour ever held in America will start from Detroit September 28. After flying 1900 miles and visiting 11 cities the race will finish at the Ford Airport at Dearborn. Heavy lines indicate the Tour route. Numerals show distances between cities.

PATHFINDER PLANE COMING TO ST. LOUIS IN ADVANCE OF AERIAL RELIABILITY TOUR

American and Foreign Makes Scheduled for Visit Oct. 1 — In Circuit From Detroit for $7000 Trophy.

A "path-finding" airplane, arranging the schedule for the Reliability Airplane Tour for the Ford Trophy, is scheduled to arrive in St. Louis Thursday. The air fleet taking part in the competition is scheduled to be in St. Louis Oct. 1.

In the reliability tour, planned as the first of a series of annual events, commercial planes of American and foreign makes will compete for a trophy valued at $7000.
The 1900-mile tour is announced, a start from Detroit Sept. 22, and the return to Detroit is set for Oct. 3.

The Ford airport at Dearborn, Mich., will be the place of starting and ending the tour.

Reliable performance, rather than speed, is the object of the competition. The tour is intended to be what the Glidden tours were in the automobile industry, a means of acquainting the general public of the Middle West with makes and types, in this case, of aircraft.

In the places to be visited, the planes will stop long enough to permit public inspection of the planes are being served in the landing fields. The itinerary includes Fort Wayne, Ind., and Chicago, Sept. 28; Moline, Ill., De-Moines and Omaha, Sept. 29; St.
Joseph and Kansas City, Sept. 30; St. Louis, Oct. 1; Indianapolis and Columbus, Oct. 2; and Cleveland,
Toledo and Detroit, Oct. 3.

The route was selected, it is stated, to include the cities and adjacent territory which have shown the greatest interest in the advancement of commercial aviation.

Banquet to Close Circuit.

A banquet, to celebrate the close of the tour, is being planned in Detroit, and members of Congress and other public officials interested in the nation's aviation program will be invited.

GOVERNOR LISTENS ONLY TO ENLOE, PHARES ASSERTS

Useless to Call Committee to Consider Medical Charges, Republican Chairman Says.

CHARGES BAKER
IGNORES PARTY

"Has Proceeded on Theory That His Election Is Personal Matter," G. O. P.
Leader States.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 8.—
Gov. Baker's policy of "ignoring the Republican State Committee and Republican organization" would prevent any "good results" from a meeting of the Republican State Committee to advise the Governor on the State Board of Health middle and charges of irregularities in medical licensure in Missouri, State Chairman W. F.
Phares of Maryville, declared in a statement issued yesterday at his home.

The statement was in answer to suggestions by Republican leaders that the committee be called together to advise the Governor on his course. As has been told, the Governor refused to remove Dr.
Cortez F. Enloe, his close friend and political adviser, from the State Board of Health, after his removal had been demanded by Dr. Samuel P. North, president of the board, and James Stewart, secretary. Their complaint was based on alleged irregularities while Enloe was secretary of the board.

Dr. Enloe's chairmanship of the board, Baker also has ignored thus far the charges against Enloe of irregularities in the admitting of unqualified applicants to board examinations for physician's licenses at a time when Enloe was secretary. These charges were made in a report by Dr. F. C. Waite of Cleveland on a survey of medical conditions in Missouri.

"The Governor has consistently ignored the State Committee since his election," Chairman Phares said, "and has listened only to Enloe."

"Unless the Governor should radically modify his attitude toward the Republican organization, and his attitude concerning his duties and prerogatives as Governor of the State, I cannot see how a good result could follow a meeting of the Republican State Committee if that body were to be called together to consider what
Dr. Baker should do with the Dr.
Enloe affair."

"Personal Appointments."

"Gov. Baker has proceeded on the theory that his election as Governor is a personal matter," Phares added. "He repeatedly has declared his freedom from party organization control, and has indicated considerable resentment when any suggestions have been made as to appointments in his administration."
"Gov. Baker's appointments have been personal appointments, and his appointees have been drawn from his circle of personal, fraternal and sectarian associates. Some of these appointments have been exceptionally happy; others have been less fortunate. But in no instance has the Republican State Committee been consulted, and the organization can do nothing to credit to the good appointments, nor accept responsibility for the bad ones."

Chairman Phares said he could not agree with Gov. Baker on the latter's theory "concerning the title to the office of the State's chief executive." It is recalled that in the closing weeks of the campaign last fall the Republican State Committee concentrated its efforts on "saving" Baker. Former Gov.
Hyde and Chairman Phares assumed the brunt of the onslaught on Dr. Arthur W. Nelson, Democratic nominee for Governor, which consisted largely of charges of Ku Klux Klan membership by Dr. Nelson. Behind that screen
Baker continued his campaign outside the State while the government carried the fight that placed Nelson on the defensive in the closing hours of the campaign. Baker was elected by about 5400 votes, running considerably behind his running mate on the Republican ticket.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Shenandoah Disaster

I HAVE read with interest your editorial in the Saturday issue entitled "No Whitewash" and hope you will carry this fight through. Some members of the Board of Inquiry have already indicated they consider it an act of Providence and the evidence is in such a condition that it is possible to render such a decision and yet not reveal the truth only through the power of the press can it be revealed.

The press reports say that the frame of the ship was cut and then repaired and several tons of water suspended at this point. Just to a layman or student of physics it seems possible that might be the cause of the collapse, together with some valves removed, which has not been denied.

I do not understand how Capt. Heinen could act with dignity in denouncing such wanton and useless sacrifice of life. The statement of Secretary Willard that Commander Lansdowne selected the time of flight means nothing. Doesn't the Secretary know that a soldier never complains? It is always misadventure if he does! Like the "Light Brigade" "Ours not to reason why, Ours but to do or die" and well they did! Commander Lansdowne did tell several of the dangers of such a flight but naturally refused to allow them to make it public.

I do not think his superiors are to blame except through ignorance. They should make amends in the only way possible, by allowing the truth to be revealed and prevent another such disaster. The press can force this by insisting that they explain why these changes were made and PROVE by competent testimony of DISINTERESTED ENGINEERS that the ship was not structurally defective. In justice to those who died and to protect others in the future this should be done.

"Wealth and Education"

THE fact that men of wealth will cast a powerful influence on education by insidious bribery is archaic. You are correct. It is no longer a fear. It is an accomplished fact. Indeed, it might be possible to cite some instances of the partial return to (or realization of) academic freedom.

You doubt that "funds" corrupt "our" educational institutions. You also gleefully refer to the old-time "fear boys." But you significantly omit any reference to Thorstein Veblen's "The Higher Learning in America" and Simon Schuchman's "The Goose-Step." It is hard to believe that these books have escaped your notice, so I must brand your editorial "Wealth and Education" appearing in the Post-Dispatch, Sunday, Aug. 29, 1925, as conscious propaganda designed to thwart the ever-increasing respect for our money classes.

"BRASS CHECK"

Board of Health Scandal

IT is about time that Missouri take some drastic action in the matter of cleaning up the medical and Board of Health scandal. It has been dragging too long. It appears that with the present Board of Health, no headway can be made. Get a new board with a clean record.

The medical profession is too old and dignified to be under its present cloud. People are getting tired of reading such rot and soon they will lose faith in doctors. They will be running to this and that out for treatment when ill. What the health of the nation or a community would be without the public's confidence in doctors we all know.

As stated, the thing to do is to appoint a new Board of Health. Let this board continue the trials of doctors cited for false credentials and either close up those colleges that sold diplomas or see that they are made reputable in every manner.

DAILY READER.

The Public's Interest First

THE reorganizers of the United Railways appear to have a definite program. First, to "co-ordinate" the People's bus line out of existence, as a long-haul and downtown carrier. Then, to place small buses in service between outlying points and suburban neighborhoods, to dump more passengers into the center of St. Louis. Probably, also, to increase service on some lines and make a few re-routings. And quite clearly, to ask for a higher fare.

From the public viewpoint, the reorganization plan is not worth the price. The present privilege of riding downtown on a bus with assurance of a seat, and the option of fresh-air space on top is better than a few more street cars would be. During the recent hot spell, many families spent their evenings in bus-top rides. Aside from their transportation value, the double-deck buses have become a means of recreation second only to the park system. Like the parks, their use is limited somewhat by weather conditions. But St. Louis has a long outdoor season, and the public needs all possible means for enjoying it.

No program that does not include real rapid transit is worth asking any public sacrifice to attain.

SENATOR BRUNK'S PROMOTION.

Gov. Baker is more successful in promoting harmony in the prison administration than in the State Board of Health. Harmony in either case means removal of opposition to Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, whom Gov. Baker has chosen to serve in preference to the people of the State. Dr. Enloe is the man who has been silent in the face of published evidences of graft in two departments of the State Government.

At least one of the elements of disharmony in prison management has been put out of the way. Former Senator Larry Brunk, late purchasing agent for the prison, has been kicked upstairs. He has been given the position of secretary of the Public Service Commission at an increase of $600 a year in salary. Only one obstacle now remains to a prison administration of complete subservience to Baker, Enloe and their business associates, among whom are prison contractors, dispensers of prison supplies and fellow stockholders in a mining enterprise. That obstacle is John Burnett, member of the Prison Board and Superintendent of Prison Industries. What is to become of Burnett? Will he, too, be kicked upstairs? Will he be throttled, or, feeling the futility of a lone hand against the Baker steam roller, will he give up the struggle?

He it said to the credit of the Governor that it was he who last May appointed Brunk as purchasing agent to put a check on known extravagances in the prison administration. Brunk made revelations of sensational significance. He found the board buying meat by the ton which could have been purchased for 3 cents a pound less than was being paid. He found he could feed the prisoners on sardine butts at the same cost at which they were being fed ox tails and beef hearts. He directed attention to a purchase of 1000 gallons of disinfectant from the G. A. Fischer Drug Co. of Jefferson City at $1.25 a gallon, which, he said, was $800 in excess of a proper payment. He cited an overcharge of $260 on an $800 bill from the Jefferson City Produce Co. He complained that purchases were being made without competitive bids, which, in transactions of $500 or more, is in violation of the statutes.

These disclosures were made in a letter to the Prison Board, a copy of which went to Baker. In conclusion Brunk wrote:

The position of purchasing agent is important only in the opportunity it offers for conserving the taxpayers' money by careful and conscientious service in the disbursement of State funds. The attractiveness of the position would be eliminated unless I were permitted to do this.

In conclusion, must recommend that your board eliminate from future consideration all firms that have shown an inclination to graft the State by overcharging for supplies purchased from them.

Following this letter Enloe, Brunk and Burnett were called before the Governor and an order was issued whereby Brunk and Burnett were to be given exclusive charge of their respective departments. That is why the present elimination of Brunk and the bland announcement by Baker that probably no successor would be appointed comes as a surprise and an indication of a direct reversal of policy by the Governor. The same old board that purchased supplies before Brunk was appointed is again to be given full sway under the directorship of Enloe.

That is what Gov. Baker's promotion of Senator Brunk means, and the taxpayers of Missouri clearly understand it.

What happened to that blooming storm, anyway?

A SAD POSTSCRIPT.

Despite the confusion which followed the collapse of the Shenandoah, it would seem that decent provisions might have been made for the bodies of the victims. William Spratley of Venice, Ill., whose son, Howard W. Spratley, was killed in the crash, describes the shocking treatment given to the body.

It arrived at Venice unaccompanied, with orders to collect the express charges on delivery. The work of embalming was done so badly that the Navy Department issued instructions that the casket was not to be opened. The body was clothed only in a suit of athletic underwear, and reposed upon excelsior in a cheap box painted black.

The bodies of the two St. Louis men, Ralph Jeffray and Everett P. Allen, suffered from similar neglect.

William Spratley has complained to the Navy Department, and his complaint will no doubt bring forth immediate and sincere apologies. Young Spratley and the others certainly deserved all the respect and honor due to men fallen on the field of battle.

One report of the fatal quarrel of a local husband and wife said the disagreement was over the make of car to be bought. That, indeed, is a much more debated question than whether to buy or not to buy.

BEN TESSMER.

Ben Tessmer lived and died according to the brutal and ruthless code of the underworld. His body, pierced five times with steel-jacketed bullets of large caliber, was found in the flimsy cottage where, perhaps, he sought to escape for a few brief summer moments the tense and deadly atmosphere of gangdom. Tessmer's arms were folded and his body composed in an attitude of sleep. Apparently, he never had a fighting chance for the life that he had so often put in jeopardy.

Tessmer was 27 years old, an age when most young men are just flowering into mature manhood. Yet he had already a long record as a police character. Several times he has been charged with murder, once when his wife was found dead beside a wrecked automobile, again when Nathan Rabbitt, his brother-in-law, was shot down in his saloon. Altogether Tessmer was arrested 104 times.

To the police the death of a gangster presents the most perplexing problems. Men like Tessmer live violent lives, and the stroke that kills them may be delivered from a score of sources. Sudden death in the underworld is a common phenomenon, not to be traced by the simple methods which are found efficacious elsewhere.

It is entirely possible that Ben Tessmer himself, were his testimony available, could not furnish the correct story. Such is the weird and awful complexity of criminal life.

The police discovered a still by deciding that a chimney would not be smoking with the thermometer at 102 to keep the occupants warm. Surely, this is the age of reason.

OFFICIAL LAWLESSNESS.

The experience of two St. Louis business men, Val J. Goessling and J. H. Wise, in a restaurant the other day raises a question of vital concern to all law-abiding citizens. They were subjected to the indignity of an outrageous and illegal personal search, and when they protested they were thrown into the street, with a "Get out of here and stay out." A few minutes later, when Wise asked the name of the man who had searched and ejected him, the man shouted, "Take him along, too." And Wise was taken along to the police holdover, charged with interfering with an officer, searched and locked in a cell. Subsequently he was taken to the Federal building, where the District Attorney, who happened to know him, graciously acknowledged he "was not disposed to press the charge against you."

Mr. Wise had committed no offense. Neither had Mr. Goessling. They were in a restaurant, where they customarily eat lunch, a place largely patronized by business men, when a couple of prohibition agents made a raid. The Assistant Prohibition Administrator, James Dunn, in charge of enforcement in the eastern half of Missouri, admitted to a reporter for the Post-Dispatch, that his agents had violated the letter of the search warrant, but he excused their conduct because of the difficulties encountered in such work. The violent and most objectionable violation of a constitutional guarantee by prohibition agents is apparently all right with Mr. James Dunn. His agents, obviously, can go as far as they like, with the stimulating approval of their boss. The outraged citizen, therefore, can look for no redress from this lawless official or his lawless subordinates.

Moreover, the outraged citizen, apparently, has no certain recourse in law. District Attorney Curry, when the question was put to him, found a penal section to prevent the infringement of states upon the rights of citizens, but this section, so far as he knew, had never been invoked to protect citizens from the acts of Federal officers. He was uncertain as to its applicability in such circumstances.

Clearly, something must be done, and done quickly, to secure citizens in their constitutional right against illegal search and seizure and to protect citizens from the brutality and indignities of bull-headed prohibition agents and their acquiescent superiors. Our prohibition enforcement officers, high and low, should be placed under adequate bonds, so that a citizen whose constitutional rights have been invaded by these creatures can proceed legally against them and, where he establishes the fact of such personal trespass, can get a collectible judgment. That at least is one remedy, and it is imperative, in view of the notorious fact that prohibition officers as a class are boastfully contemptuous of the Constitution where that instrument imaginably obstructs their special mission.

Anyhow, there is a limit to the lawlessness officials may practice. There is a limit to the humiliation which self-respecting citizens will submit to from the rough-necks and hard-boiled superiors of prohibition enforcement. If the Constitution can no longer guarantee to citizens the rights which it enunciates as inherent in liberty, then indeed we have come to the end of free, constitutional government. The Post-Dispatch, however, has no notion that the American people will quietly exchange orderly government of law for the disorderly government of official lawlessness.

A BIT OF SENTIMENT.

It is such little things as this that Europe needs to abate the hatred and bitterness of the war: Last Sunday morning visitors to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Paris found a wreath tied with a ribbon of German colors and bearing inscriptions in German and French. "German League for the Rights of Man," read the one in German, and the other ran: "To the unknown soldier from soldiers of peace."

Thus, in the place where the sorrow of the French nation is concentrated, was found the sympathetic tribute of its erstwhile enemies. If Paris' spirit of "revanche" could be kept alive for nearly 50 years by green wreaths on the Strasbourg statue in the Place de la Concorde, surely it cannot be insensible to the delicate eloquence of the wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

IN PRAISE OF A HERMIT.

This age of luxury and dollar-chasing has witnessed no more inspiring spectacle than Henry Morris, the Nebraska hermit, who returned to the world after 30 years in a cave and after looking on the cocoon when it was brown, went sadly back to the woods. He appeared as a prophetic figure when he shook his head in disapproval of the movies, rolled stockings, golf, cigarettes, prohibition, liquor and evolution. Perhaps he came as a herald of that blissful day when blue laws rule the land and all of us will take to caves, there to live ascetic lives according to the ritual of repression.

Yet this must be said in praise of Henry Morris. He asked none of us to go back to his cave with him. He formed no grand amalgamated order of cavern to proselyte in the fleshpots. He advanced no plans for a subdivision along the banks of Bauman Creek, where he has his home. His criticisms and his indorsements were not for sale. He likes sarsaparilla, but he accepts the fact that others like gin. Living a life of isolation, this philosopher goes so far as to deny himself the pleasure of seeing others deny themselves. May this grand old hermit long enjoy his hermitage.

We have this morning a somewhat ponderous communication from the Committee for Fair Play in China, but our last observation before the heat scattered our wits was that China had decided to get fair play for herself. We think this is better. Treating other people too much to do anything for you is not entire wisdom, and after being buffeted about by pretending friends for some hundred years the Chinese have decided to help themselves. They have extended to the British the boycott which has been operating against Japan until the Japs are about the best little boys in the East, and we may expect to see the British get to be good little boys over there, too. The Chinese are also making it hot for foreign exploiters of all sorts, and we don't know of any better way to encourage them than to give them our well wishes.

Someone who has divided his life about half-and-half between Europe and the United States, tells us in the current Mercury that he will henceforth make the United States his home. He says the Europe he formerly knew does not exist since the war. When the war tide subsided it left great reefs and bars of Americans, who have remade Europe in our own image. They have now all sorts of urges and movements, something hitherto unknown in Europe. Hence the writer's flight to America. This is a refreshing contrast to the usual complaint, and we hope he likes us. It would help us to like ourselves better than we do just now.

Singularly, that part of Morocco in which the French and Spanish are fighting the Rifians is a corner of the world which civilization has until now overlooked. None of the great Mediterranean conquerors got over there. The Romans had too much better territory to conquer in Europe, and when the culture of Central Europe came down from the North there was too much to do along the Mediterranean to tempt it across the desert. So it remained for our own time to get around to it, which we are doing with airplanes and all the impedimenta of modern civilization. The Rifians have been missing something.

Ecuador is governed for the present by a commission of seven men who take turns as chairman. It has been found that one man cannot defend a public office in that emotional republic.

THE CRADLE OF THE RACE.

From the New York Times.

ON the basis of present evidence, the hand that rocked the cradle of the human race must have been active over a greater part of the earth's surface. The cradleland of man and the focus of human dispersion have been variously located in Turkistan, in the Caspian region, in Lithuania, in Java, by Roy Chapman Andrews in Manchuria; in Africa, whence according to Elliot Smith, the Aurognathian culture entered Europe; in India, where G. E. Smith discovered in the Siwalik fossils of the Himalayas the first simian ancestor of the human race; in the Egyptian desert, and sometimes in Central America, and Peru. Last June brought news of the discovery of a picture of a dinosaur in the deserts of Northern Arizona, suggesting a fantastic antiquity of something like 100,000 years for the human race. The drawing it. Obviously it is as difficult to derive a firm consensus from a comparison of best skulls as from a convocation of best minds.

Man's incurably migratory habits have made the problem of human dispersal highly speculative. When two closely affiliated skulls are found, one in Palestine, one in Southern Bavaria, what is to prove that the original human trek was from the vicinity of the Rhine to the vicinity of the Jordan instead of the other way about? Keith thinks the route was from Europe to Asia and Africa; Elliot Smith is sure that it was from East to West. Keith goes further in claiming for Europe not only the origin of the human race but of human culture. That does not necessarily follow. Man may have emerged from the cradle of Western Europe, started out to see the world and learn things, and brought back the fruits of his journey. He travels to the folks at home. At the present moment, for instance, Egypt is far from the lead for the honor of first civilized civilization. Something of the bold imagination that inspires ethnologists must have entered man on his first travels from his original home—wherever that was.

PUTTING THE SEA TO WORK.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

DEXTER P. COOPER, hydraulic engineer, proposes the newest and, at the same time, one of the oldest of the power projects. The scientists with an eye to power sources are legion, and the first the sun, then the wind, next the water streams and falls, coal, electricity and so on. The atom must not be overlooked as the most recent candidate. The atom is so shy and retiring that it fears little hope for the immediate future. But the biggest, most obvious and untapped power source which has tantalized the dreams of men is the ocean, with its rolling waves and inexhaustible daily tide. Prof. Cooper has been studying the Bay of Fundy. There is a tide right at the mouth of the U. S. A., a magnificent lift of 50 feet of water to 30 feet or thereabouts, every day, and an equal fall of the same amount the same 24 hours. Power enough to run a world! And Prof. Cooper has a plan for tapping it. He has a dam to be built on the walling in that ocean hump so that the tide is discharged with a regular flow. That's the giant power that looks gigantic.

Hardy's 'Tess' Given Premiere in London

Thousands Unable to Obtain Seats for First Production by Professional Cast.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The first production in London of Thomas Hardy's play, "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," by a professional cast, took place in the Barnes Theatre last night. The event had caused tremendous interest and thousands of persons were disappointed when they were unable to obtain seats. Among these was the Marchioness of Kesteven.

Hardy, who is in his eighty-sixth year, was not present, but will witness Thursday evening's performance. The show last night was considered a great success. The audience included many prominent persons, among them Lord Beauchamp, Henry Arthur Jones, the dramatist, Sir Barry Jackson, director of the Birmingham Repertory Theatre, and Miss Playfair, manager of the Regent Theatre.

Thomas Hardy more than 30 years ago dramatized his novel, "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," but refused to let it be produced. He said that novels could get "neuter" in the heart and the meaning of "life" than plays. He based his play upon what he characterized as the limitations of the theater, such as the timidity of managers, need of molding the part of the actor, and the arbitrary demands of the box office.

After a film version of "Tess" had been presented last year, Hardy relented and surrendered the play to the producers. He was a player of Dorchester for presentation. It is said that Hardy chose the woman to play the lead part of Tess. She is Miss Gwen Vaughan Davies, a young actress who has starred for several years in London.

In the United States, however, the play was dramatized and produced with Minnie Maddern Fiske in the title role more than a quarter of a century ago.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. PHILIPPINE L. FORSTER

Widow of Doctor, Whose First Husband Was a Mayor of St. Louis, Once Social Leader.

The funeral of Mrs. Philippine L. Forster, widow of Dr. Otto E. Forster, and previously the widow of Henry Overstolz, a former Mayor of St. Louis, was held this afternoon at the Wagoner chapel, burial in Bellefontaine cemetery following. She died Sunday night in the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, from an intestinal disorder.

She was the daughter of Louis Eschenziel, a prominent manufacturer here in the period following the Civil War. She danced with President Grant at a ball given on the occasion of his first visit to St. Louis after his inauguration, and she was later the guest of President and Mrs. Grant at the White House. She later married Overstolz, who served two terms as Mayor, and during his terms she was active in social leadership. He died in 1887.

Dr. Forster, her second husband, was a member of the Police Board under Gov. Stephens' administration. He died five years ago. She leaves one son, Charles H. Overstolz, and four daughters, Mrs. Louell Koock of Cape Girardeau, Mrs. James P. Whiteside, Miss Ida Overstolz and Mrs. Katherine Krutich.

CLAY COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY DENIES 'BACK DOOR METHODS'

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KEARNEY, Mo., Sept. 8.—The Clay County Medical Society, in session here, adopted a resolution condemning the "back-door methods" and back door privileges granted to applicants for licenses to practice medicine, as is said to have been done by Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, former secretary of the State Board of Health, and still a member of that body.

The action of Gov. Baker in retaining Dr. Enloe on the board is described in the resolution as a method of "paying his political debts at the cost of the sick and afflicted of the State."

On the other hand, the resolution commends the administration of Dr. Emmett P. North of St. Louis, president of the board; Dr. James Stewart, secretary, who succeeded Dr. Enloe, and Dr. T. H. Wilcoxen of Bowling Green, member of the board, whose commission has expired and who has not been recommended by the Governor.

It will be recalled that Dr. North and Secretary Stewart demanded of Gov. Baker that he remove Dr. Enloe from the Board of Health because of alleged questionable acts of the latter when he was secretary. The Governor took no action on the demand.

Later on Dr. F. C. Walte of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, submitted a report of a survey he had made of conditions in Missouri covering the administration of the board, in which Dr. Walte condemned the "back-door methods" that were employed to license students from low-grade medical colleges.

The Waite report was indorsed in the resolution adopted here by the Clay County Society, and a copy of the resolution was ordered sent to Gov. Baker, and the secretary of the Board of Health.

Charges in Petition. The charges against Dr. Enloe, on which President North acted in demanding that he be removed from the board, grew out of an answer to a petition filed in the Supreme Court by the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery, against which there is pending an

States He Was Licensed After Paying $500 Attorney Fee

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 8.—One of several witnesses who likely will be called in the proposed Jackson County grand jury investigation of conditions that existed in the State Board of Health affecting licensure of physicians in 1921-22-23 is Dr. Asa Edgar Field, proprietor of a local chiropractic school.

In 1923 Dr. Field, who had previously been licensed to practice medicine in Arkansas, applied for a license in Missouri by reciprocity from Arkansas. He employed an attorney to represent him before the State Board of Health. This attorney told him, Dr. Field said, to pay another attorney $30 for expenses to Jefferson City. Dr. Field said he was granted the license after paying the $300 attorney fee and $30 expenses for the other attorney. He had previously agreed to pay these fees when he employed the attorney.

BEING fresh and charming every day has ever been the average woman's problem. But today... the modern woman meets it with a smile. Science has stipulated the uncertainty of the old-time sanitary pad with protection that is absolute.

You wear your flimsiest frocks, your summery things in confidence. You motor for hours, you dance, you dine; you come in contact with others without a second thought. The name is Kotex... a method scientifically right. It absorbs 5 times the moisture of the ordinary cotton pad. And that means great protection.

It is as easily disposed of as a piece of tissue—ending an old-time embarrassment. It is deodorized. And that prevents danger of offense. You get it at any department store or drug store, just by saying "Kotex." And that banishes the embarrassment of asking for a "sanitary pad."

It will mean much to you in health, in daintiness, and protection. It proves old ways a needless folly.

DRIVER OF AUTO THAT KILLED TWO PERSONS HELD

Testimony Indicates William Kuba Was Trying to Beat Street Car to Corner to Avoid Delay.

Testimony indicating that he was trying to beat a street car to the toppling place, and thus avoid waiting while passengers got on, brought a verdict of criminal carelessness against William Kuba, 43 years old, a baker, 1200 Allen avenue, at the coroner's inquest today in the death Sunday of a man and a woman struck by Kuba's automobile Saturday night. He was held for $10,000 bail.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bollman, 6, a widow, 4040 Olive street, and Francis W. Nohl, 52, of 361 A Wyoming street, were run down at 10:15 p. m. Saturday as they waited for a northbound Grand car at Wyoming street. Testimony was that the car was drawing to a stop when Kuba's automobile, with a screeching of brakes, skidded into the waiting passengers.

Woman Describes Accident. "A smaller machine had pulled in to the curb," testified Miss Catherine Ruoff of 3806 Plad avenue, who was a passenger in the street car, "when this automobile, with several people in it, flashed in between it and the street car. There was a screeching of brakes, a woman screamed, and then I saw the man and woman lying in the street, with their heads on the east curb. A boy who also was waiting for the car had leaped back out of the way."

"Did you observe the speed of the automobile?" asked Deputy Coroner Dever. "No, it just occurred to me as it cut in between the other automobile and the street car, that that was a reckless thing to do. I had seen that done so often."

Another street car passenger, Howard McBrayer of 4715 Pennsylvania avenue, testified that when he heard the brakes he turned to see the automobile skid along the length of the street car.

Testimony of Motorman. The motorman, John Cassidy of 1717 Coleman street, testified the automobile stopped with the hood about four feet in advance of the car. He said that he came to an emergency stop before the car had quite reached the regular stopping place, but that Nohl and Mrs. Bowman were waiting together at the regular stop.

Joseph Kuba of 1708 Menard street, brother of the driver, gave their speed as 10 miles an hour. Mrs. Josephine Kuba, Joseph Kuba's wife, declared that Nohl and Mrs. Bollman had stepped in front of the automobile William Kuba, upon advice of counsel, made no statement.

Word of the death of the Rev. Louis George Landenberger, of 3741 Windsor place, general pastor of the Illinois Association of The New Jerusalem, which occurred yesterday morning aboard the steamship Republic, as it was entering the New York port, was received by his wife, Dr. Emma M. D. Landenberger, yesterday. She departed for New York, last night, to return with the body.

The Rev. Landenberger, who was 49 years old, was returning from a visit to the German-speaking countries of the Church of New Jerusalem, and suffered a stroke of paralysis aboard ship. For the last ten years he had been general pastor of the Illinois Association and missionary pastor. Resurrection service will be held at the First Church of the New Jerusalem, 620 North Spring avenue, at 2 p. m. Thursday, conducted by the Rev. Dirk Diephuis and Arthur Wilde of New York.

TEST OF COAT RULE ON DINERS
Arizona Man Puts Matter Up to State Corporation Commission.

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 3.—Whether the Southern Pacific Railroad can require a man passenger to wear his coat while being served in the dining car will be passed upon by the Arizona Corporation Commission as a result of a complaint made by Nealy A. Pennington, Tucson.

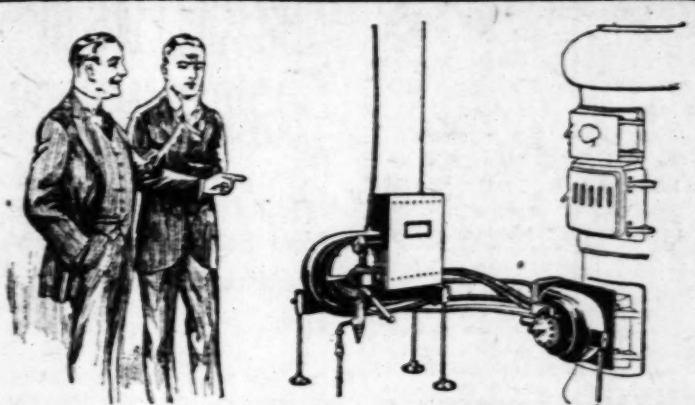

Pennington charges that while en route to Phoenix from Tucson Saturday T. L. Woodling, a steward, required him to don his coat before serving him. He declares that he wore a new shirt which cost him $4.98, offering this fact as evidence that he was properly dressed.

DRINKS POISON ON MOTORBUS Woman in Serious Condition in Hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Giles of Illinois, Mo., is in the city hospital in a serious condition, following an attempt to end her life by drinking poison, while riding on top of a motorbus near Jefferson avenue and Washington boulevard yesterday afternoon.

John M. Giles, her husband, with whom she was visiting at 3715 O'Meara avenue, said her act probably was the result of a quarrel they had in the morning which he believed of no consequence.

Don't worry about coal strikes!
Burn Oil—in an Electrol

EVERY year the old coal strike bugbear comes along and coal prices go sky high. Isn't it about time for you to quit worrying about coal strikes and coal prices, and to start enjoying the pleasures of an Electrol Automatic Oil Burner instead? Isn't it about time to be rid of coal troubles altogether? You know the inconvenience which you have with a coal furnace—how you have to run up and down stairs to stoke it and how unpleasant getting up in the morning is with the thermometer in your bed-room registering 50°.

An Electrol Automatic Oil Burner will end all this. No coal shortage due to strikes... no high-priced coal to buy... no tiresome trips to the basement to put on coal... no ashes... no getting up in a cold house in the morning. With its automatic electric ignition and 8-day clock thermostat control, the Electrol Automatic Oil Burner is as near a perfect heating system as has yet been devised. It entirely operates itself, maintaining the even, comfortable temperature which you want without a noticeable variation. Come in and let us demonstrate the new Model T for you.

—when the air is blue with smoke—

Where men smoke steadily

Take a peep into almost any business conference today. You'll find heated arguments. Much smoking. Tensed nerves.

But something else today—you'll find men eating Life Savers between smokes. They take quickly to this wholesome habit. One man notices another and soon all have discovered this new way of getting more pleasure out of smoking.

More and more smokers are doing the same thing. We wondered if you knew this about Life Savers, these little candy mints with the hole; how they freshen your mouth between smokes, soothe your nerves and make the next smoke taste so much better. It's a fact: Life Savers easily double your smoke enjoyment. Their wonderful aromatic flavors freshen your mouth like a good drink of water when you're really thirsty—and steady your nerves for work or play. Once you try them this way between smokes, you'll always have a package handy. Six flavors are displayed at all good stores so you may help yourself: Pep-o-mint, Wint-o-green, Cinnamon, Lic-o-ri, Cl-o-ve and Vi-o-let. Five cents a package—Life Savers, Inc., Port Chester, N. Y.

BOY DROWNED WHEN HE FALLS FROM LOG

Search Made for Body of Roy Bildebeck Who Was Floating in River.

Search is being made today for the body of Roy Bildebeck, 14 years old, of 2710 North Eleventh street, who was drowned yesterday afternoon when he fell from a log on which he was floating in the Mississippi River, at the foot of East Prairie avenue. With several companions, he had gone in swimming at 2 p. m. He caught the log on which he was floating and it carried him downstream and out into the channel of the river. When considerable distance from the bank the boy was seen to fall from the log into the river and disappear.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bildebeck, five brothers and three sisters survive him. Roy was planning to start to Clay school today, where he was in the fifth grade.

WILLIAM YOUNG LEFT ESTATE SAID TO BE WORTH $100,000

Will Provides Bulk Be Divided Into 10 Parts to Go to Relatives.

The will of former Chief of Police William Young, disposing of an estate said to be valued at $100,000, was filed in Probate Court today. Young had been engaged in the real business prior to his death and completed a term as member of the Board of Police Commissioners this year. He leaves $1000 and a diamond ring each to John and William Doyle, sons of Dr. William J. Doyle, 1017 Lafayette avenue, whom he characterizes as friends and companions of himself and his late wife.

The residue of the estate is divided into ten parts, one each to his brothers, Charles, of Lafayette, Ill.; Anton, of Springfield, Ill.; and Frederick, of St. Louis; his sisters, Mrs. Josephine Bosnyak of Cuba, Mo.; Mrs. Minnie Patterson of Little Rock; Mrs. Elizabeth Salzer of Monett, Mo.; and Mrs. Kate Fleming of St. Louis; and the children of his deceased brother, Clark, Robert and Julius. From the bequests to the children of Robert and Julius is to be taken $1000 each to be divided among the other heirs.

MAYOR REFUSES ANSWER TO HERTENSTEIN'S CHARGES

Would Not Dignify Statement by a Reply. Is Answer to Reform League's Request. Mayor Miller will not reply to Charles Hertenstein's charge that he tried to turn the classified service into a political machine. The National Civil Service Reform League, with headquarters in New York, asked the Mayor for such a statement, after reading the statement issued by Hertenstein, when he recently resigned the position of chairman of the Efficiency Board. The Mayor, replying to a request of the Civil Service Reform League, wrote last week: "I would not dignify anything Hertenstein said by a reply. Hertenstein would have been discharged had he remained much longer. That is a sufficient answer to his statements."

61 ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN ST. CLAIR COUNTY SINCE JAN. 1

This Number 24 Were Due to Auto Mishaps, 14 by Trains and 11 in Mines. Fifty-one accidental deaths have occurred in St. Clair County since Jan. 1, according to a report just made by Coroner Fulgam. Of this number 24 were due to automobile accidents, 14 by railroad trains, 11 deaths occurred in mines, four in industrial plants and four in street accidents. Most of the deaths which occurred in mines were caused by falling slate.

"Considering that St. Clair County is the second largest county in Illinois the death rate from accidents is considered very low," said Coroner Fulgam.

Five Persons Hurt in Auto Crash.

Five persons were injured last night when a touring car and truck collided head-on on two miles west of Belleville, Mo., on the new link of State Highway No. 2, which was opened yesterday. The touring car was driven by George Dushar, 36, of Kansas City, who with four members of his family had attended the celebration at Osage on the completion of the road to that point. H. M. Hatcher, 37, of Belleville, Mo., was the driver of the truck which also contained his wife and their three small children.

If Every Human Heart Could Tell Its Story!

WHEN little Bobbie Dean crept sobbing out into the dark of the city streets in search of the great theatre where played his mother who loved a violin better than she did her baby boy, he did not know that he was making history . . .

Nor did old Mrs. Matheson when from the front of her apartment house she tore down the sign which read "Positively No Children Allowed" and replaced it with another bearing the message "Children Welcome" . . .

When Margie wrote to Santa Claus imploring him to send her daddy back she did not realize that her pathetic little note was destined to bring tears to the eyes of a nation . . .

Yet, today—this very minute—hundreds of thousands of men and women are weeping, smiling, thrilling to the lure of these poignantly touching, true stories—such stories as they never read before they became acquainted with True Story Magazine—such stories as were never printed until the coming of True Story, the magazine that is written by its readers.

INTO the life of every man and woman some day there comes a crisis.

Sooner or later Fate puts to the test every human soul.

And when that time comes there is lived a story more powerful than any fiction story ever written.

From the earliest dawn of history such stories have been lived. So long as the human race endures they will be lived.

Each is a chapter of the book of life. Together they constitute the history of mankind.

These are the stories that appear in True Story Magazine. Authors of fiction cannot write them. They can come only from the hearts and minds of the men and women of whose lives they are a part.

Just as they come to us, unchanged in thought or fact, they are published in True Story—so that each issue is a cross section of life as it is actually lived.

THAT explains the unparalleled success of True Story Magazine which in six short years has captivated the hearts of the vast audience that each month goes to the newsstands and buys a greater number of copies of True Story than is sold of any other monthly magazine.

That is why you should become acquainted with True Story.

The October issue has just been placed on sale. You will find it at the nearest newsstand.

Dear Sir:
Please accept my criticism of your magazine known as "True Story" which I have been reading for the past two or three years. I cannot find words to express its enjoyment, both to myself and family. I would heartily endorse this magazine, both for a Public Library and a Sunday School or a Church Library. In saying this I have in mind the morals which are incorporated in all stories which I have read in your magazine. Unlike most true stories, they are not only interesting, but very gripping. I can say this with all truth as I am far above the age when anything and everything would satisfy my desires in reading.
Yours respectfully, David E. Hardester

Dear Sir:
I have been a reader of "True Story" magazine for some time and I have been a judge in the lower courts of the above city and county for 18 years. I have heard all kinds of cases that come in a justice court and I can truthfully say, that I wish that every person in this country, especially those under twenty-five years of age, would read at least one copy, for I believe it is of untold value to them.
If all would read, and take the warning and abide by it there would be far less cases in our courts.
Yours truly, G. B. Wanack

Associated Press. FRANKFURT, Sept. 8.—Dempsey, heavyweight champion, emerged partially retired in the midst of a fight at the ball park here yesterday afternoon to box four rounds, two each with two opponents.

Scratched men in the race, hit the water together and remained about even for a quarter of a mile. Mudge pulled away and when the Free Bridge was reached he had a lead of about a quarter of a mile over the Chicagoans. However, Colbeth, with a four-minute handicap, had maintained an excellent pace and it was necessary for Mudge to improve his pace greatly near the finish to nose out the Chicagoan for the time prize.

Bad Breaks Hurts Connie Mackmen

Given Up Flag Hope, but Run of Set Against the Athletics Discouraged His Players.

an B. Foster. The Mackmen are lamenting a "great deal of luck" but he hasn't yet given up hope of a chance to win the pennant.

He never gives up. He insists that at a point where mathematical impossibility is as much as any other team, they are broken up by his famous season after season to put together a nine from material that he gathered here and there and coached into shape.

He found it a terrible task to build up a winner that way. The winning teams were retaining their grip by spending money for players with experience and there were no championships won by teams built from the ground up. The old-fashioned idea of getting men here and there in the minors and welding them into something worth while was as fine and chivalrous as ever, but then no longer practical.

Mack says as himself. It took him a long time to concede it, but then he went into the buying business himself and although not all of his investments panned out as he had hoped, he is well satisfied with the general results, because the Athletics, winners almost all of the season, are bound to be runners-up in the race unless they fall into a state of coma.

Wray's Column

The Year's "Most Valuable." NEXT on the annual "pick-off" program comes the "most valuable player." There were exciting and hectic moments last season when the committees of both leagues chose pitchers as the "most valuable" men of their respective leagues.

Although it was later proposed, in both organizations, to have a separate prize for the pitcher—because he works only one-fifth of a schedule where the regular plays the full 154 games—the pitcher is still with us as a factor. The proposal was not adopted.

DAWES STIRRING UP PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Vexes Senate Candidates by Pressing Campaign for Amendment of Rules.

By Staff Correspondent of Post-Dispatch and New York World.

PORTLAND, Sept. 3. — Vice President Dawes, inverted pipe and all, is invading the Pacific northwest and stirring up the political waters.

At Seattle, Portland and other places the Vice President has had audiences which have overtaxed the capacity of his halls. When he arrived in Portland he did not meet any of the United States Senators from this region. He was met instead by a delegation of newspaper publishers, among them E. B. Piper, publisher of the Portland Oregonian, the outstanding Republican paper of the Pacific Coast. Piper expressed sympathy with the fight Dawes is making from an amendment of the Senate rules.

Senatorial Campaign on.

Oregon has a pending senatorial election in the case of Senator R. N. Stanford. Naturally the objections Dawes is making to the Senate rules of unlimited debate embarrasses the Senator. But this does not appear to embarrass the Vice President.

The invasion of the Pacific Northwest at this time is extremely annoying to the group of Republican Senators who are candidates for re-election. They have other troubles in connection with the administration of the public lands and especially of the reclamation service. The Shipping Board issue has become an embarrassing factor in the campaign following the President's demand for the resignation of Bert F. Haney, Oregon representative on the board. This is especially true in Oregon, where Senator Stanford is facing all kinds of trouble, both in the primary and in the election. Oregon has shown its willingness to change horses in the past through its election of Senator George E. Chamberlain, Democrat, still one of the popular figures in the State.

Roars of Approval.

It is probable, for this reason, that intimations have gone out from Swamscott that the activities of the Vice President were distasteful to the administration. The margin of Republican Senators is already extremely thin, and in the connection the Pacific Northwest assumes tremendous importance. Dawes may be musing things up for the party, but he doesn't seem to be disturbed by it. The "peewits" may shudder, but the Chicago General purposes to go on just the same.

Meanwhile the Senate subcommittee on public lands continues to investigate what is going on at Crater Lake and to look into the affairs of Indians at Klamath Falls.

Roars of approval greeted Dawes last night when, before 5,000 persons at the Auditorium, he said, "I believe you are with me." He declared he would win his crusade.

URGES VOLSTEAD ACT CHANGE

Fifth Division Veterans Approve Resolution at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3. — The Fifth Division Association of A. E. F. Veterans, in the final session of their annual reunion last night approved a resolution urging modification of the Volstead act without specifying a particular change.

A resolution telegraphed from Houston, Tex., by Vice President C. C. Webber, condemning prohibition, was not acted upon. Webber also presented the resolution on prohibition. Dr. E. C. Morton of Chicago was elected president and Sergeant Samuel Woodfill of Kentucky, described by Gen. Pershing as the outstanding hero of the American forces in Europe, was named vice president.
